

No Arrests Made, But Mail Bag, Money Recovered

VANCOUVER (CP)—New developments in the attempted theft of $100,000 in bank funds destined for Victoria are expected in the next few hours, Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superintendent A. T. Belcher said today.

The bag with most of the money intact was recovered in Vancouver during the week-end, but no arrests have yet been made, he said.

Nor is it yet known how much is missing.

Though Superintendent Belcher declined to discuss whether the theft attempt was an "inside job," he admitted that no holdup or other violence was involved.

The money consisted of bank funds being transferred from Vancouver to Victoria and was supposed to be placed aboard the Ss. Princess Elizabeth Thursday night, but apparently failed to reach the vessel.

DISCOVERY MADE HERE

Disappearance of the bag was discovered shortly after the Elizabeth had docked in Victoria Friday morning, C.P.R. officials said everything placed on board in Vancouver had been properly accounted for and checked off in Victoria.

"Right at the moment we would rather not disclose further details," Superintendent Belcher said. "It is very difficult to get any information for the next few hours until we learn just a little more about it."

He said he would prefer to have G. H. Clarke, district director of postal services, comment on whether an inside attempt had been made to steal the bag.

"I have no comment," Mr. Clarke said.

Postal authorities and the R.C.M.P. are conducting a joint investigation.

B.C.E.R. Employees Voting On Offer

Some 2,500 members of the A.F.L. street railwaymen's union in Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster are voting today on a 10-cent hourly wage increase offered by the B.C. Electric Railway Company.

The union's negotiating committee has already approved the boost, the principal point in a new agreement providing 30 changes in working conditions. George Morrison, union business agent, said results of the ballot will be known tomorrow.

Renounces Claim

PARIS (AP)—Great Britain went before the Italian Economic Commission and renounced claims to some $11,000,000,000 in reparations from Italy. She reserved only the right to exercise article 69 of the Italian treaty allowing her to confiscate whatever Italian assets may be found in the United Kingdom and its colonies to satisfy claims for war damage.

Ban Slav Relief

NEW YORK (AP)—Joseph P. Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's Association (A.F.L.), said today longshoremen would not load any relief supplies for Yugoslavia "until proper action is taken against those who were responsible for shooting down our planes" in that country.

Ryan asserted that even if the strike of A.F.L. seamen were to end today, there still would be no loading of any vessel with cargoes bound for Yugoslavia.

Portions Of Body Found In Seattle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The butchered parts of a man's body, wrapped in cotton and brown paper and tossed out in the alleys behind a downtown theatre, were discovered here Sunday night by a group of teen-age youths.

Police repossessed the gruesome packages contained all of the thus far unidentified victim but the head and hands. Those parts still were missing today despite careful search of the vicinity where the other dismembered pieces were found.

So precise were the cuts by which the body had been cut up that police speculated the job might have been done with surgical instruments, or at least by someone with a very good knowledge of anatomy. The missing head and hands, they speculated, probably were disposed of in some other location to prevent identification.

Hope For Truce In U.S. Marine Strike Vanishes

NEW YORK (AP)—The greatest shipping strike in United States history continued its strangulation of international commerce and many industries today after hope for a truce was given up by a Labor Department mediator in San Francisco.

Harry Lundeberg, leader of the 90,000 striking American Federation of Labor seamen whose pickets lines are being respected by another 400,000 A.F.L. and C.I.O. seamen, stevedores, teamsters and other Maritime workers, reiterated that his men would not return to work until wage cuts ordered by the War Stabilization Board are scrapped.

Phillip Hannah, Assistant Secretary of Labor, who flew from Washington to see Lundeberg in the hope of arranging a truce, announced he had been unsuccessful in his negotiations and was leaving at once for Washington.

The War Stabilization Board is scheduled to meet tomorrow in Washington to reconsider its Aug. 23 ruling limiting A.F.L. seamen to wage increases of $17.50 monthly—the amount awarded to C.I.O. seamen. The A.F.L. unions had negotiated increases with shipowners of $22.50 on the west coast and $27.50 on the east coast.

Between 1,500 and 1,600 deep-water ships were paralyzed by the strike as it went through its fifth day and 400 tugboats in New York harbor were tied up at their piers.

U.N. Secretary Seeks Word No Further Postponement

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary-General Trygve Lie drafted a message today to Paul Henri Spaak, president of the United Nations' General Assembly, asking for assurance that no request would be made for postponement of the Assembly meeting beyond the four-power Foreign Ministers' recommendation for moving the date to Oct. 23.

A spokesman for Mr. Lie said he would ask Dr. Spaak, who attended Sunday night's session of the Foreign Ministers in Paris, to obtain this guarantee from the Big Powers.

Mr. Lie acted after receipt of word from Paris that Russia, China and France had agreed to ask that the date be moved from Sept. 23 to Oct. 23. The United States and Great Britain, he was told, agreed not to oppose the recommendation if the other members of the U.N. concurred.

U.N. circles interpreted Mr. Lie's move as meaning he was ready to accept changing of the meeting from Sept. 23 to the October date, contingent on approval of the members of the assurance of no further requests.

Mr. Lie was preparing to circulate the ministers' recommendation to all members for their opinions.

Andrew Cordier, executive assistant to Mr. Lie, said Mr. Lie was advised that Russia, China and France had given full support to the postponement plan and that the United States and

Britain Hopeful After Prayers For Weather

LONDON (CP)—An official Air Ministry weather forecast of "mainly fair" following Sunday's national day of prayer for better weather brought a ray of hope to rain-battered, water-logged British farms today.

Harvesting was resumed in East Yorkshire following fine weather Sunday and Norfolk farmers, cheered by the change in the weather, were hopeful half their crops might be saved.

Many itinerant hop-pickers in Kent who had prepared to return home at the week-end changed their minds and resumed work today.

Big Liquor Haul In Police Raid

Part of one of the largest liquor hauls made in a local police raid is shown stored at city police headquarters after being taken from a house at 471 Gorge Road early Sunday morning. Police said a warrant has been issued for the arrest of the occupant of the house, Frank Vene, on a charge of unlawfully selling liquor. Two homemade wine presses were seized by a police squad under Sgt. Thomas Banister, as well as four large kegs of wine or cider, six empty barrels, approximately 300 empty bottles, several cases of beer, dozens of whisky bottles, some of them partially filled, and dozens of glasses, a bottle capper, and other paraphernalia usually associated with the manufacture of alcohol.

Strike Of Prairie Farmers Continues; May Decide To Rule Milk Supply 'Hot'

EDMONTON (CP)—The central strike committee of the Alberta Farmers' Union gathered in Edmonton today to decide whether milk should be declared "hot" or allowed to reach the market while pickets appeared before grain elevators, creameries and stockyards throughout most of Alberta as the 30-day delivery strike of 20,000 farmers asking for parity prices moved into its third day.

The decision to review the milk situation followed protests by large numbers of farmers over earlier union instructions that milk be allowed to pass the picket lines for distribution to hospitals, children and homes for the aged.

Meanwhile reports from Saskatchewan indicated little picketing was being carried on by the estimated 30,000 farmer members of the Saskatchewan section, United Farmers of Canada, whose headquarters at Saskatoon had requested support for the Alberta farmers. The only point reporting picketing during the week-end was Worcester, 60 miles southeast of Regina.

Full effect of the delivery strike in Alberta is not expected to be known until late this week. Country roads are in poor condition following last week's rain, making delivery difficult and in some cases impossible.

PICKETS PROMINENT
Reports reaching Edmonton during the week-end said pickets were prominent throughout northern Alberta, but there were only scattered reports of picketing in the southern section.

The reports indicated the majority of farmer-pickets were adhering to union instructions to "avoid violence," but from Wetaskiwin, about 40 miles south of Edmonton, came word that a non-union farmer attempting to deliver cream to a creamery under Royal Canadian Mounted Police escort, had his cream dumped.

Pickets turned loose a load of pigs on another non-striker who ignored picketers' orders to "turn back."

Wetaskiwin reports said that pickets, after dumping the load of cream, erected a sign reading: "This is what happens to scabbers' cream." Picketers were also reported to have "joyfully" helped children fill small jars from cream remaining in the spilled cans.

Reports from the northern British Columbia block around Dawson Creek and Fort St. John Union officials say they will not call off the strike until they receive assurances from Ottawa that a satisfactory agreement can be reached.

The strike has been called for 30 days. At the end of 20 days A.F.U. members will again be polled to see if they wish to continue the strike.

Timed To Spoil London Parley; Haifa Rail Cut

JERUSALEM (AP)—A British information officer announced today that the Palestine railway had been cut in 50 places, the flow of oil to the port of Haifa disrupted and two persons killed in a series of outbreaks coinciding with the opening of British-Arab talks in London.

Explosions and gunshots broke out in various sections of the Holy Land. The information officer said these incidents were "apparently part of a larger Jewish terror campaign which partially failed because of a break in timing."

The officer said he believed the campaign had been planned by either Hagana or Irgun Zvai Leumi (Jewish underground groups), probably Irgun, as a demonstration of strength to coincide with the opening of the London conference, which the Jews so far have shunned.

"We believe this morning's blastings of the railway at several points was planned to coincide with yesterday's explosions at the Haifa port area," he said, "but something went wrong."

THREE DISTRICTS AFFECTED

Official reports said the series of incidents included:

Damage to railway lines in three areas between Jerusalem and Jaffa. In one zone 30 miles north of Jerusalem the line was cut in "up to 30 places."

Destruction of a railway signal tower at Haifa and damaging of other signal facilities. An Arab boy was said to have been killed in the tower explosion.

The fatal wounding of a British police corporal, shot in Haifa,

Injury to "several workmen" when a mine blew a streetcar from the tracks.

An exchange of fire between a military patrol and armed men in the edge of Jerusalem near the scene of a railway blast.

The country was in a virtual state of siege. The Jerusalem siren sounded an emergency call at 12.47 a.m., and the all clear was still awaited at noon. A strict curfew was maintained all night.

At the Latrun detention camp 500 Jews began a 24-hour hunger strike Sunday in protest against their continued detention.

Twenty of the 800 odd detainees at Rafah camp were informed Sunday that they have been sentenced "administratively to one year further detention. None of them has been brought to trial.

Britain May Be Forced To Drop Palestine 'Federation' Scheme

LONDON (AP)—An authoritative source said today that Great Britain "might soon have to invite the Jewish Agency to participate in the Palestine talks" on its own terms — "statehood within an adequate area"—to prevent a failure of the London Holyland conference.

Such an invitation apparently would mean abandonment by Great Britain of her plan to use the Anglo-American experts' "federalization" plan as a basis for discussions.

The informant added British authorities would not make such a move before exhausting every attempt to persuade the "more moderate, non-agency Jews" to attend the talks which will formally open tomorrow.

An official spokesman said Dr. I. Herzog, one of Palestine's chief rabbis, was flown to London in a British military plane and had seen Colonial Secretary George Hall.

The British cabinet met in a special meeting and one question was the Palestine conference.

Heavily-armed military and civil guards patrolled the precincts about which the conference between British and Arab representatives assembled amid reports of a new wave of violence in Palestine.

The Palestine Arabs are not represented, having refused to participate when the British authorities declined to accept the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem as head of the delegation.

George M. Tripp, retired general superintendent of the B.C. Electric Railway here, died suddenly at his 1684 Yale Street home this morning.

Mr. Tripp, who was 70 years of age, retired from the B.C.E.R. Jan. 17, 1944, after 46 years' service with the company. He was born in Woodstock, Ont., and came to Victoria 48 years ago.

He had suffered a long illness but had recovered sufficiently to take a holiday up the island recently. He was out driving Sunday.

He was a member of the Victoria and Columbia Lodge No. 1, A.F. & A.M.

Mr. Tripp joined the B.C.E.R. as an operator and rose to the position of general superintendent. The whole expansion program of the B.C.E.R. on Vancouver Island took place under him, including establishment of the Goldstream plant in 1898, the Jordan River plant in 1909-10, which was heralded as one of the greatest achievements in Hydro-electric development, and the steam plant at Brentwood.

Ninety per cent of the work to be done to the Kathleen was interior work and there was very little steel work to be done, Capt. Williams said.

Two surveys were made. One was to ascertain how much work was to be done by the British ministry to bring the Kathleen back to her peacetime condition; the second to ascertain how much more the C.P.R. would pay for work on her before she returns to the Victoria-Vancouver-Seattle triangle service.

Capt. Williams said C.P.R. officials were surprised at the excellent condition of the Kathleen which was launched in 1925 from the yards of her builders, J. Brown and Co., Clydebank.

The tender for more than $1,000,000 worth of repairs to the Princess Kathleen will be let one week from today to one of four B.C. shipyards bidding for the contract, Capt. O. J. Williams, manager of the C.P.R.'s B.C. Coast Service, announced today.

The contract will be the largest passenger ship contract awarded on this coast since that for the Princess Louise in 1920.

The four shipyards seeking the contract are: Victoria Machinery Depot Co. Ltd., Yarrow's Ltd., Burrard Dry Dock Co. Ltd., and Pacific Coast Dry-docks Ltd.

Government Plan To Settle Steel Strike Rejected

HAMILTON (CP) — Striking steel workers here Sunday rejected the government's latest proposals for settling the wages-hour strike which hit all three of Canada's basic steel plants on July 13. Steel workers of the two other plants at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and Sydney, N.S., were to decide today on the same proposals.

The United Steel Workers of America (C.I.O.) called the strike July 15 at the Hamilton works of the Steel Company of Canada. At the Algoma Steel Corporation in The Sault and the big Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation plant at Sydney. Only the Stelco plant here has maintained partial production since the strike started, with an estimated 2,500 or 2,700 workers remaining on the job inside the picket-guarded gates of the Hamilton plant. The Sault and Sydney plants have been shut down throughout.

Here a total of 2,200 unionists by a show of hands at two separate meetings rejected the government's latest proposals and were understood to have expressed determination to abide by the modified union strike aims. The strike was called for a minimum wage of $33.60 and a 40-hour work week. It was figured this meant a wage increase of 19½ cents an hour at Hamilton and the Soo, 24½ cents at Sydney.

The government's latest proposal, rejected here, was understood to provide an increase of 12½ cents an hour for lower-paid workers and 11 cents for workers getting 95 cents or more. The main difference between this proposal and one that had been earlier rejected by the union's national committee was said to be a widening of the basis of increases, permitting the increase for more than half of the 15,000 employees of the three plants. Previously the increase would have affected between 25 and 30 per cent of the employees. The union had said it would bargain above 15 cents.

It was possible the government, which took over the basic steel plants under federal control a week before the strike started, now might use its latest order-in-council to force a new strike vote among the steel workers.

Okanagan Fruit May Go Uncanned

VANCOUVER (CP) — Harvested fruit in the Okanagan likely will be dumped for lack of workers in canneries, Stewart Dixon, area supervisor for the Dominion-Provincial farm labor service, said today.

Efforts to man the canneries failed and dumping of harvested peaches on a small scale has already occurred.

The demand is for women workers. Canners and packing houses in the Okanagan valley need a minimum of 130.

Mr. Dixon said a campaign of advertising in newspapers and radio appeals had netted only three workers.

He said the service had managed to fill most requirements for field hands to pick the crop, but was "stumped" for cannery and packinghouse workers.

Plants in Vancouver, which can fish chiefly, and others at Haney and Chilliwack, have hired men in the normal way, but women refuse to take on the Okanagan jobs.

Wage rate for women is 46 cents an hour. Accommodation is "good" and the season until mid-November.

Fruit ranchers are unwilling to release field hands for cannery work.

The Macintosh apple crop will be ready shortly and will require an "army" of pickers.

Canadian-U.S. Seal Herd In Pribiloffs At 3,000,000 Mark

The herd of fur seals on the Pribiloff Islands, only source for North America, now amounts to about 3,000,000, probably almost as many as before the herd was depleted almost to extinction in the last century, Dr. G. C. Carl, director of the Provincial Museum, said today.

Dr. Carl returned recently from a three-month visit to the Pribiloff Islands with Dr. George Prefontaine of the Dominion Fisheries Research Board. Canada receives 20 per cent of the seal skins from the Pribiloffs, and Dr. Carl and Dr. Prefontaine inspected the industry this summer as the first Canadian representatives to visit the islands.

The catch this year amounted to 65,000 skins, Dr. Carl said. The slaughtering and skinning of the seals was carried out by native Aleuts under the supervision of white men, who cut off groups of seals from the main rookeries in the early mornings and drove them to killing grounds. The seals were killed by clubbing them over the heads.

Only three-year-old males were killed, Dr. Carl said. The skins were taken to the villages on the islands and turned over to the company which processes them, and the carcasses were taken to reduction plants.

The 1945 harvest of seal skins, Dr. Carl said, was worth approximately $5,000,000, and the 1946 harvest probably would bring more than $4,000,000, since the market value of pelts was high.

"I was most impressed with the vast number of seals, I think," Dr. Carl said.

"The worst feature of the islands is the weather. There is little or no sunshine. The weather is windy and misty all the time."

Rumor Of Princess' Romance Persists

LONDON (CP) — The Communist Daily Worker, commenting on an officially denied report that Princess Elizabeth is about to become engaged to Prince Philip of Greece, said today: "It is hardly an accident that these reports immediately follow the Monarchist rigging of the Greek plebiscite."

The royal romance report was printed by the London Star Saturday and later denied in an official Buckingham Palace announcement.

The Princess, vacationing with her parents at Balmoral, Scotland, was unable to attend church Sunday because of what was described as a "slight cold." Prince Philip, her second cousin and a guest at Balmoral Castle in the highlands, attended church services.

"The king business is in such a state of slump nowadays," the Daily Worker said, "that a temporary look-up in one quarter may well have bearing on the British Royal House's choice of a husband for the heiress to the throne."

"But the political implications of such an event, were it to occur, far transcend any merely marital problems of monarchy. A union between the young lady whom events may make the ceremonial head of the British state and a far from progressive scion of the House of Glucksburg would be a plain slap in the face to British democracy."

Packing Employees Authorize Strike

Efforts To Settle Newspaper Strike

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Herald-Express was strikebound for the fifth day as both sides awaited conferences today with Howard T. Colvin, associate director of the U.S. conciliation service.

Colvin came here from Washington for a single session with representatives of the newspaper and the C.I.O. American Newspaper Guild. Formal negotiations were to be resumed tomorrow with Harry C. Malcom, regional director of the conciliation service.

The Guild is demanding $100 weekly for experienced newsmen and circulation district managers. The Herald-Express, which has a circulation of 410,000, offered a 10 per cent increase or $5 a week, whichever is greater.

CBC Man Explains Prelate's Service Too Long For Radio

TORONTO (CP) — W. J. Dunlop, director of religious programs for the CBC, said it was "absolutely untrue" the CBC had refused to broadcast a sermon by the Archbishop of Canterbury in Ottawa unless Viscount Montgomery participated in the service.

"Speaking from the cathedral's pulpit Sunday, Rev. L. E. C. Graham said the CBC had originally agreed to carry the broadcast, but later refused unless Viscount Montgomery's presence could be guaranteed."

"Long before we were approached about this service I asked Ottawa to check and see if we could not broadcast it," Mr. Dunlop said. "It developed, however, that the service would run for 50 minutes and that it would occur at 5 p.m. That is an awkward time of day to put a program through the network and a 50-minute service is a difficult length . . . due to the nature of the program it could not be condensed."

"Our attitude was that if we could not arrange to take the whole service, we could not take part of it. We could not see our way to put on this 50-minute service at this particular time but although we originally understood that Viscount Montgomery would read the lesson, his presence was not made a condition of the broadcast."

Daylight Saving Ends Here Sept. 28

Daylight Saving Time will end in Victoria midnight Saturday, Sept. 28—it was learned at the city clerk's office today.

Under the by-law passed last spring by the City Council-Victorians have been enjoying the extra hour of sunlight since midnight April 27.

The daylight saving by-law applied only to this year, M. F. Hunter, city clerk, explained. If fast time is to apply next year it will require another by-law unless either the Provincial or the Dominion governments step into the picture.

Alaska Plane Crash Kills 4 Near Nome

SEATTLE (AP)—General manager Jack Gilbert of Mount McKinley Air Freight Inc., said here one of the company's planes crashed five miles north of Nome, Alaska, Saturday and that its four occupants were killed.

One of the victims, he said, was Lee Chesterfield of Anchorage, Alaska, company vice-president. The others were Capt. Marvin L. Pratt of Bellingham, Wash., the pilot, and his wife, and John Campbell of Anchorage, co-pilot.

The plane smashed into the side of Anvil Mountain and the charred bodies of the occupants were recovered from the burned wreckage, said a dispatch to the Associated Press from Nome. Fog shrouded the entire Nome area.

The plane and crew were making their first flight to Nome for the newly organized air line. It was the first time Mrs. Pratt had been in the air with her pilot-husband.

New Air Speed Set

LONDON (AP)—Group Capt. E. M. Donaldson of the R.A.F. established a world air speed record Saturday by flying 616 miles an hour in a jet-engine Gloster Meteor IV over Tangmere in Sussex. It was announced officially Sunday.

A sister plane piloted by Sqdn. Ldr. William Waterton of Edmonton, Alta., also broke the existing record by flying 614 miles an hour after Group Capt. Donaldson had established the new mark.

The previous record of 606 miles an hour, recognized by the Federation Aeronautique Internationale, was set Nov. 7, 1945, in another Meteor by Group Capt. H. J. Wilson of the R.A.F.

The new figures were the average for four runs made over a course between Little Hampton and Worthing.

'Big Syd' The Bull Is Headline News Down Ottawa Way

'Big Syd,' Brahma bull showing at a rodeo, got loose in Ottawa and sent crowds scattering into doorways for shelter. One woman was injured and sent to hospital, another fainted. Above, 'Big Syd' is escorted down Sparks St. to the amusement of onlookers just before he changed their amusement to scurrying fear. The bull finally was roped by a group of rodeo cowboys in a lane after a couple of near misses in the crowded street.

Twenty-three alleged German war criminals, members of the notorious "Bureau Ehrhardt," are photographed at Shanghai, China, for first time as they face Allied charges of continuing anti-U.S. activities in violation of German surrender. Included in group is Ludwig Ehrhardt, German embassy staff member who headed the pro-Nazi intelligence agency centred there.

Diplomats In Sharp Debate On Byrnes' Stuttgart Speech

WASHINGTON (AP)—Diplomatic officials roused to sharp debate today over whether State Secretary Byrnes' speech at Stuttgart will help establish one world or two.

The line-up generally is the same as it was when the big argument was whether the Allies should impose a "hard" or "soft" peace on Germany.

The debate pits those who favor patience and conciliation toward Russia against those who believe a working basis with Moscow—if possible, at all—can be achieved only by bold diplomacy. The one-time "hard" peace advocates are sharply critical of the Byrnes speech. So are those who favor a conciliatory attitude toward Russia.

These persons, saying that Mr. Byrnes virtually abandoned the Potsdam Big Three pact at Stuttgart, centre their criticism around these points:

1. Mr. Byrnes may have ended serious attempts at a collective, four-power approach to German problems with his assertion that the United States—in the absence of a Big Four agreement to treat Germany as an economic unit—will proceed to unify its zone economically with any others willing to go along.

2. Some of his statements were made primarily for political purposes—to curry German favor for the United States as against Russia.

3. The effect of the speech may be to drive Russia into deeper economic and political isolation from Western countries, thus increasing the probability of an eventual East-West showdown.

New Comox Creamery Will Open Shortly

COMOX—The new $55,000 Comox Creamery building, replacing the old building which has served the community since 1901, will open shortly.

The long, low building, situated on the outside, contains three pasteurizers with a capacity of 400 gallons an hour. Storage capacity is 2,000 gallons. An ice plant is in operation, with a capacity of five to seven tons and a storage capacity of 60 tons. Shower baths are provided for the comfort of the staff, and another feature of the plant is the laboratory room, in which tests will be made of butter and milk and records kept.

New Union Formed At Packing Plant

CALGARY (CP)—John Montgomery, former president of the A.F.L. union in the Burns packing plant here, has been elected president of the new C.I.O. union, the United Packinghouse Workers of America, Jack Hampson of Edmonton, representative of the union, said Sunday.

Several weeks ago at a government-supervised election at the plant, a majority of those who voted desired C.I.O. instead of their previous A.F.L. affiliation. However, the C.I.O. vote was not a majority of those eligible to vote and another election may be held.

Port Alberni To Have Musical Club

PORT ALBERNI—Organization of a musical club in Port Alberni will be discussed Sept. 19 at a meeting arranged by E. Leslie, recreation director. A dramatic club also may be formed. Port Alberni Votes On By-Law Tuesday

PORT ALBERNI—Ratepayers will ballot Tuesday on whether or not Port Alberni should borrow $70,000 to purchase the army camp. Voting will take place at the City Hall from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Mayor W. C. Hamilton, in a message to voters, has explained that the vote on the money by-law is necessary in addition to the recent plebiscite in which ratepayers voted for purchase of the army camp.

"The passage of time and the shortage of accommodation for schools and housing makes it more imperative than ever that the city obtain possession of the camp," the mayor said.

A three-fifths majority is needed to pass the by-law.

Addition Planned For Comox Hotel

COMOX—Construction of a $65,000 addition to the Port Hotel, Comox Harbor, for which plans have been completed by Hubert Savage, architect, is expected to start early in 1947.

The addition will contain 18 double rooms, each with a private bath, four single rooms, a billiard and recreation room and an enlargement of the dining-room. It will be built as a three-and-a-half story wing to the present building.

CREDIT CREATES OPPORTUNITY!

Seen in its proper setting even the lowliest product can give a new perspective . . . a truer understanding of small industries and businesses . . . and their vast contribution to national wealth and well being.

Observe, for example, the humble faucet—made of copper perhaps or brass and barely mentioned in official statistics. Yet brass and copper products provide employment for some 17,000 Canadians in about 140 plants—none of them large. And these plants are but a part of Canada's Non-Ferrous Metal Industry with its 590 plants employing 90,000 Canadians.

For more than 90 years this Bank has helped small businesses fit themselves into this broadening panorama of Canadian industry. Practical help usually entails financing—the kind of credit which itself creates opportunity. Our credit plans meet modern needs of both large and small businesses—such needs, perhaps as yours which we cordially invite you to bring to us.

SOME REASON MUST PREVAIL

NONE OF THE COMPLAINTS AGAINST the speech which Mr. Byrnes delivered in Stuttgart last Friday includes charges of timidity or double-talk. Comment seems fairly evenly divided between two schools of thought—the proponents of a throttling peace for the defeated Nazi nation and those who recognize the ultimate role which 70,000,000 Germans must assume in the future political and economic structure of Europe. Critics of the Secretary of State's pronouncement who come within the first category probably felt encouraged in their contentions when they heard one highly-paid radio commentator yesterday describe the still intact industrial potential which he felt some new Teuton overlord would convert to the purposes of another bid for world domination as soon as Germany reacquired the right to govern herself. In the second category are those who have not forgotten how the late Fuehrer of the Third Reich turned to his own nefarious account those provisions of the Treaty of Versailles—particularly the economic—which suited the mood of the peoples of the Allied and Associated Powers in their flush of victory, but which the subsequent course of events proved virtually impossible of enforcement.

Nothing in the Byrnes dictum suggested that the German people will be allowed to forget their responsibility for much which Adolf Hitler and his coadjutors did in their name. They could have stopped the Fuehrer in his tracks as soon as the pattern of his policy manifested itself immediately after President Paul von Hindenburg inaugurated him as the monarch of all he surveyed. Instead of which, however, they followed and applauded; they could do so or suffer the consequences. Some objected and paid the penalty. The millions who are left to pay the bill are realizing, more acutely than a former generation, that the master-race theory is a spent force. But the German people, highly-educated and highly-skilled, obviously retain many of the characteristics of their race. Again driven to desperation, therefore, they may strive to revive the philosophy of Frederick the Great.

On the other hand, the proposal which the American Secretary of State enunciated at Stuttgart presupposes that, under sympathetic but essentially practical direction, they can be shown a way out of the frustration of their complete defeat to the broader path of useful co-operation with their former enemies. Nor is it necessary to repeat that a politically and economically progressive Europe requires the German potential in both these spheres of human endeavor. Regardless, moreover, of the apparently insister designs of the Soviet Union—probably much over-rated by ideological extremists who are often frightened by their own shadows—it surely will not be seriously contended that the United Nations Organization must be written off as useless before it celebrates its second birthday. The important factor thus to be borne in mind, especially by the ultra-hard peace advocates, is that 70,000,000 Germans cannot be ignored as if they did not exist—their warlike record notwithstanding. And are those who remember the aftermath of the First Great War forgetting the quarantine formula applied to the state which is now the mighty Union of Soviet Socialist Republics?

SEEKING A SOLUTION

AGAINST A BACKGROUND OF continuing violence in the Holy Land itself, the Palestine Conference, called to seek a solution to problems in that troubled country, opened in London's Lancaster House today. Places had been reserved for representatives of both the Arab Higher Executive and the Jewish Agency despite earlier indications that neither would attend. What can be accomplished without the concurrence of both is problematical. The fact remains, however, that the right to participate has not been and will not be denied them.

No cut-and-dried formula has been worked out for rubber stamp approval at the conference. Any party to it may submit constructive suggestions. As a basis for discussion, however, delegates will have before them the federal plan advanced by the committee of British and United States experts. Under it Palestine would be divided into four provinces, with facilities for a federal system. The Jewish provinces, according to the definition of Mr. Herbert Morrison, "would include the great bulk of the land on which Jews have already settled and a considerable area between and around the settlements." Some authorities have estimated its area at approximately 15 per cent of Palestine's territory. Included in the populations affected would be approximately 300,000 Arabs. The Arab sections would cover virtually all land in which the Arabs live, but would not be self-supporting.

This, briefly, is the geographic feature of the federal plan. The Arabs, however, view with some skepticism the possibility of preserving such territorial limitations against the energetic expansion of the children of Israel. They view the rise in the number of Jews since 1922 as an indication of events to come. In that year the Arabs represented 87 per cent of the population. At present they account for approximately 69 per cent. Yet statistics indicate that natural population growth, exclusive of immigration, will preserve Arab numerical dominance. While the influx of Jews since 1922 had raised the number in Palestine from 84,000 to 354,000 by 1944, the increase in Moslem Arabs has risen by 472,000 to a total of 1,061,000. Zionists, moreover, contend that the latter rise has been made possible by the ability of the incoming Jews to render former desert land productive and to check diseases.

These are some of the points which will enter the considerations of the Palestine Conference as it seeks solution of existing problems. There are many others, not the least being the necessity of finding a home for those of Jewish faith who are determined to leave European lands, where their history has been one of unending tragedy. Nor will current incidents—Jewish terrorism in the Holy Land—be ignored. But it will be borne in mind that the action of extremists, detrimental as they are to the Jewish case, should not be the deciding factor in determining the future of that important country.

STRIKE REACTION

THE POWER OF A COMPARATIVELY small number of people engaged in a key industry or service to paralyze the economy of a nation is illustrated by the strike of the A.F.L. marine workers in the United States. The fact that it is a strike against the government and not against the operators, due to the government wage board having refused to countenance the rise in wages agreed to by the operators and unions, is of vital importance.

In the first place, the government has laid down a certain policy against inflation. In the second place, the strike is timed just before an election in which the principal objective of the would-be legislators is to get themselves elected. President Truman, when the railway unions struck, advocated legislation which would empower him to draft employees to carry on the vital services of the nation. Congress refused to pass legislation which it said took away the right of employees to strike. If the present A.F.L. strike is successful, the C.I.O. must be given the same advantages for which the A.F.L. will get the kudos with its unions. That sets up a series of consequences which can only bring about more and more inflation. It also establishes a precedent for striking against the government in any business. Therefore it places President Truman on the spot. In a democracy the people are supposed to be the government and their President has to act in their interests. If trade is paralyzed by a group acting, rightly or wrongly, in its own interests, it is obviously against the interests of the people. The consequence is that the demand for legislation to curb the power of any group acting against the interests of the people is sure to be strengthened, and such legislation may conceivably be much more drastic than was suggested before.

WILL IT FILL THE BILL?

OUR NEIGHBOR'S GIANT CONSOLIDated bomber, XB-36, was planned for possible use against Germany in the event that Britain should be defeated. It has been completed in the age of the atomic bomb. And, now that it has negotiated its first test flight successfully, some are probably wondering of what use it can be.

Is the 30-ton bomb capacity of this giant ship, which dwarfs the B-29, necessary today? And if the weapon of the future is to be—God forbid—a self-propelled missile with an atomic warhead which will rocket to its destination 100 miles above the earth, why is this new super-bomber necessary?

These are speculative questions which require an authoritative military reply. The layman's answer to the first is obscured by the fact that the size of the bombs used at Hiroshima, Nagasaki and Bikini is a closely-guarded secret. It is known, however, that though the explosive charge of an atomic bomb may be relatively small, a great deal of complicated machinery is necessary to detonate it. It was also revealed in a story from Bikini that the B-29 was the only American aircraft capable of carrying the present atomic bomb. So the XB-36 might be envisioned as the carrier of a bigger atomic explosive.

As for the rocket of the future, its practical development may be so far away as to require a more present means of transportation. So perhaps the XB-36 is a logical component of United States defence plans of the immediate future. And the fear which the atomic bomb inspires and the fervent prayers that it may never again be used in combat cannot cancel out the need and desirability of trying to maintain a modern and realistic national defence.

NO DANGER OF INTELLECT

LENGTHY RESEARCH ON THE CHIMPANZEE has convinced Dr. D. O. Hebb, a primate biologist, that the animal is like normal man or woman in jealousy, anger, sulking, lasting dislikes and irrational fears, as well as in other particulars, though not in intelligence. "The problem-solving ability of the chimpanzee," says Dr. Hebb, "is that of an imbecile, perhaps, or a child who can't talk yet."

There is some consolation in this analysis of the monkey's capacities. There is little likelihood of him developing bigger and better atom bombs to blow civilization apart, and virtually no possibility of him lighting the faggots of war over border disputes beyond the realms of his particular tree or cage. He has almost no problem-solving equipment.

Nuernberg Principle

By WILLIAM L. SHIRER

HOW MANY AMERICANS, rushing back from pleasant vacations last week, paused for a moment to consider the news that came in from Nuernberg of the end of the greatest state trial in history?

And yet only the other day one of the quietest of U.S. publicists, Walter Lippmann, in thinking over the Nuernberg trial, had come to the conclusion that it was an event "which may be remembered longer than any other comparable event of our era."

"I DO NOT THINK it is rash to prophesy," he wrote in the June issue of Ladies' Home Journal, "that the principles of this trial will come to be regarded as ranking with Magna Charta, the habeas corpus and the Bill of Rights as landmarks in the development of law. The Nuernberg principle goes deeper into the problem of peace, and its effects may prove to be more far-reaching, than anything else that has yet been agreed to by the peoples of the world. It goes deeper than the Covenant of the first League of Nations, deeper than the Charter of the United Nations. For it contains that very thing which is lacking in the United Nations Charter: a rule of law which binds every human being on earth, a rule of law which no government, however big, can now veto or now disavow."

Those were big statements, as Mr. Lippmann said he realized. He thought they were true. Whether or not they are, they merit, it seems to me, the attention and consideration of a people who despite their happy-go-lucky nature seemed to this observer, at least, during the past summer to be sprouting a fear of a new war with—why not be frank?—Russia.

FOR WHAT Mr. Justice Jackson, with scant appreciation from his own countrymen, has been up to at Nuernberg for the last nine months has been not so much to prove the guilt of a handful of derelict Nazi thugs for specific war crimes as to establish, as he said in his first report to the President on June 7, 1945, "that a war of aggression is a crime, and that modern international law has abolished the defence that those who incite or wage it are engaged in legitimate business."

This is a very revolutionary concept and in June, of a year ago, even before Mr. Justice Jackson had put forth his superhuman efforts which were to convince our principal and rather reluctant Allies that they should join him in producing a charter and in creating an International Tribunal to sit in Nuernberg, he was acutely aware that there are only rare moments in history when conservative mankind will accept and adopt a revolutionary idea.

"NOW WE STAND at one of those rare moments," he reported to the President then, "when the thought and institutions and habits of the world have been shaken by the impact of world war on the lives of countless millions. Such occasions rarely come and quickly pass."

All the rest of that summer in Europe Mr. Justice Jackson strove to convince the British, French and Russian governments of the supreme importance of seizing the opportunity of this rare occasion. His was the driving force that resulted in the Charter and Agreement of August 8, 1945.

The charter turned out indeed to be a most revolutionary document and a good many of our more conservative minded international lawyers do not like it at all. It sets up as law governing the Tribunal that there were such things as crimes against peace.

THE BASIS for the arguments of the prosecution at Nuernberg therefore was that Germany had specifically broken international law by provoking war in 1939. It violated the Pact of Paris (the Kellogg-Briand pact) and a number of specific non-aggression treaties which Germany had solemnly signed with its victims, Poland, Belgium, Czechoslovakia and most of the others.

But the American Supreme Court Justice went further—further than any legal mind had yet gone in international law. He argued that the individuals who ruled a state found guilty of aggression were themselves criminally liable. Heretofore it had always been accepted that a ruler or an official of a sovereign state could not be held personally liable for the acts of a state.

In his eloquent opening address at Nuernberg Mr. Justice Jackson put great stress on this novel conception.

"THE ULTIMATE STEP in avoiding periodic wars," he argued, "which are inevitable in a system of international lawlessness, is to make state leaders responsible to law . . . to ensure that those who start a war will pay for it personally."

"And let me make clear," he added, "that while this law is first applied against German aggressors, the law includes, and if it is to serve a useful purpose it must condemn aggression by any other nation, including those which sit here now in judgment. . . . This trial represents mankind's desperate effort to apply the discipline of the law to statesmen who have used their powers of state to attack the foundations of the world's peace and to commit aggressions against the rights of their neighbors."

Without being naive about the present ugly situation in the world as the result of the great rift between Russia and the West, it might be noted that the Soviet Union became, in effect, a party to this new conception of international law by the presence of two of its judges on the bench and a staff of prosecution lawyers who worked at Mr. Justice Jackson's side.

AT NUERNBERG, at least, the Russians did not take a walk.

The Struggle for Germany Begins

By JOSEPH ALSOP

SECRETARY of State James F. Byrnes has formally begun to repair the errors of the past in his statement at Stuttgart on American policy towards Germany. He did not speak his mind as a man in the street can do. Nevertheless, his statement marked the formal initiation of the struggle between the United States and the Soviet Union, which will decide whether this unhappy country is to join the free world of the west or become one of the slave states of the Soviet system.

The struggle is only beginning now because, hitherto, we have remained passive and confused in the face of a determined Soviet campaign to gain control of Germany by the methods described previously. It is appropriate now that the errors of past American policy should be described as well. They arose directly and exclusively from the influence of those who wished to "pastoralize" the most numerous and energetic industrial nation in Europe. That influence was strong in directive 1067 of the joint chiefs of staff, which is still the basic directive of the American military government in Germany.

NOT the least extraordinary aspect of the picture here is the astute use made by the Soviet Union, through its instrumentalities, the American Communist Party, of the woolly-mindedness of such perfectly well-meaning persons as former Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr.; and the other pastoralizers. The best way for the German people to be driven into the arms of the Soviet Union was for the United States to stand forth as the champion of indiscriminate punishment and harsh misery in Germany. In the disorganized period at the close of the war, considerable numbers of American Communists and fellow travelers infiltrated the military government, and there became the most passionate advocates of pastoralization as well as assisting Soviet policy in other ways.

The chief centre from which the infiltration was accomplished seems to have been Camp Ritchie, Maryland, where German and other language officers were trained for military intelligence. The inference is that the infiltration was carefully concerted.

AT any rate the fact is uncontested that a considerable number of American Communists found posts in the economic division, the information control division, and even the counter-intelligence branch of the military government. In the economic division they were especially strong on the staff of Morgenthau's special treasury representative, Bernard Bernstein, who was in charge of decentralization of German industry. And they used this position, playing upon Bernstein's belief in the pastoralization theory, to try to hold down the whole German economy to a level of drab, unrelieved, unbearable misery. It was in the atmosphere they industriously worked to create that we negotiated the famous agreement on the level of German industry, as to which one of the actual negotiators said to this correspondent that "if adhered to it would condemn all of Germany to a permanent diet of potatoes."

One of these men, who can be named if need be, is even known to have entertained and elicited confidences from two German Socialists, H. Schlemmer and B. Goering, during the period last fall when the Socialist Party was struggling to avoid merger with the Communists. The two Germans, thinking of their host only as an American, spoke with considerable freedom. And the next day German Communists asked them why they had said what they did at this American official's table.

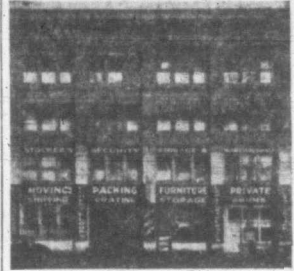

AGAIN, in the information control division, fellow-traveling or Communist officials succeeded in licensing the three main newspapers in the American zone, the Frankfurter Rundschau, Stuttgarter Zeitung and Rhein-Neckar Zeitung to German Communists. Until corrective steps were taken the Rundschau used to be called the Frankfurt Pravda.

But these foolish and sometimes shameful episodes were merely symptoms. The American Communists were for a time able to throw their weight about because American policy was deeply confused and the American people had not thought the German problem through. That was the fundamental difficulty. It is to that difficulty, rather than under-ground influences, that our mistakes must in the last analysis be traced.

ALL of these mistakes have, in one way or another, involved a failure to recognize that a struggle for Germany had begun with the end of the war. Therefore, we adopted a rigid de-Nazification policy, and let the Soviets hire the best men we threw out of jobs. Therefore, we adopted an information control policy wholly concerned with the crimes of the Nazi past, and without any realization of the meaning of the Soviet challenge. Therefore, we inhibited the early growth of a strong, labor movement, which must eventually be the foundation stone of the free Germany of the future. Therefore we let the Soviets cherish and bribe their servile German politicians while we denied the leaders of the Democratic parties the transportation, publication rights and

AUTUMN IN ANCIENT WOODS

By ROBERT CONNELL.
THE dry rocky ridges that extend from Mount Tolmie to the Uplands are now in the subdued colors that precede the fading of the leaf. The oaks are still green, but the grass is yellowish grey, and on the rock exposures the lichens and mosses are black, deep brown and bluish grey.

These latter colors express the thirst that looks forward expectantly to the fall rains. Against the neutral tints the curiously twisted and gnarled branches of the oaks are peculiarly striking. Some of them stretch themselves far out from the trunk till they rest their extremities on the ground. Others suddenly change their direction and turn back upon themselves as if they had suddenly met with something peculiarly obnoxious to them. In remarkable contrast are the almost vertical branches that sometimes rise above these.

The low-lying places are the home of the balsam fir whose dark glossy fan-like foliage forms lofty spires, and of the Nootka rose whose dense thickets, still largely green, are studded with red fruit. Into the larger hollows run little narrow water-courses now quite dry and lined with mossy rocks, and here and there crossed by a piece of old plank laid down, by a pedestrian some previous winter over the gurgling stream.

In another month or so these tiny gullies will be filled with water and humble water-plants, and the stream will be working once more at the pattern of knobs and hollows on the rocks. Then the ground will be showing the leaf-roses of sanicle and buttercup among the fresh shoots of grass and a night's rain will work a miracle on the rocks as the ferns, lesser clubmoss, mosses and lichens awaken to their new year.

WOODLANDS LAKE

Different is the scene on the south slope of Mount Matheson in the East Sooke area. The main road crosses the long valley at the head of Pedder Bay in which a mile back lies Lake Matheson and which is still further prolonged till it becomes a narrow arroyo of Sooke Basin. Then at the southeast corner of the base of Mount Matheson an old and now faintly marked wagon-trail leads on the right up a slope covered with fairly open forest.

The now grass-grown road shows green patches of the little white daisy and here and there a flower still remains out, but like other hardy things the daisy waits the early rains. The trail winds among scattered Douglas firs, some of which are of great size and age. They must be at least 300 to 400 years old, seedlings when Elizabeth was on the throne and Shakespeare immortalizing himself. These are isolated trees of vastly greater age than the surrounding forest which is still open so that pleasant vistas are to be obtained of retreating glades.

In these open woodlands the lodgepole pine is common, straight for the most part, not contorted as along the coast. Groups of alder mark the moister hollows and here and there a yew tree's foliage attracts the eye with the pretty fruit-like globules of rosy pink wax. There are also wild cherry trees of large size and height. The wild flowers are over, not even a lingering godetia to be seen on the grassy slopes.

Two hundred and fifty feet above the sea in a hollow of the mountain side lies a pretty little lake. This was once, long years ago, the source of water-supply for the Quarantine Station at William Head, and the ruined walls of the cement outlet are still visible. It makes a quiet peaceful scene this autumn day as its placid waters reflect the blue sky. Outside its sedgy margin the little yellow flowers of the lesser spearwort still bloom.

Worthington Again Heads Youth Group

Members of the Victoria Youth Action Committee at their annual meeting in the home of Brock Whitney, 1345 Victoria Avenue, elected Alfred Worthington to his third term as president of the committee.

Other members of the executive elected were: Albert Davies, vice-president; Bruce Baines, treasurer; George Geddie, publicity director; Pat Sylvester, corresponding secretary; Molly Kyle, recording secretary; William Merryman, merrymakers' chairman; and Al Playfair, member-ship chairman.

The committee decided to write to the Recreation Council of Greater Victoria, offering the committee's plans for a complete Youth Town, modeled along the lines of Vancouver's Teen Town. The committee will offer to co-operate with the council in development of a Youth Town.

Dr. Henrietta Anderson will be asked to attend a future meeting to address the committee. Other plans for the future were also discussed at the meeting.

Collision At Portage

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man. (CP)—One man was injured and two locomotives damaged, one badly, when two freight trains collided in the Canadian National Railways yards here Sunday. Poor visibility was blamed for the collision.

The injured man was Peter Kowarchuk, C.N.R. coal dock employee, who suffered fracture of one ankle and possible spine injuries when he jumped from a tender.

Rail traffic was not held up. A hunted Australian kangaroo once was seen to clear a nine-foot fence.

Every common toad is said to be worth at least $7.50 annually to farmers because of the harmful insects it eats.

Celtic Flash moved up very fast on rail, leaving back stretch, ran this pocket back of winner, had to take up, but came again when clear in final eighth to get up to be second. Heavy Help moved up in drive to win, but got narrow defeat for third. Sable Gilt weakened in run through stretch. Little Silent had speed at start but soon drifted back. Spanish Ball was forced to take out of tight quarters in first turn, went wide and never recovered.

Barbrack also moved up fast in final quarter but could not overhaul winner. Total provided contention for first three-quarters then gave way. Brilliant Help moved up in challenge for lead on far turn but could not hang on, weakening in drive to wire. Some Turkey, quick to begin, sprinted to long lead in first quarter and was never in danger thereafter. Naled proved best of others. Tidy Peter stumbled coming out of gate, trailed field to final quarter, then made up a lot of ground on extreme outside, rider being unable to lose whip and not able to force mount to utmost. Kinsail well placed in early running, tired at 10 short in final quarter when asked to run.

Arab Somers, closest to early pace-makers, took top on far turn and drew away from field. Ascot Gal made up ground in final three-eighths and proved best of others. FUNNY BUSINESS

"He carries them along whenever he delivers papers to the boss—he's hinting for a vacation!"

GLOBAL SURVEY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst

A highly explosive situation exists in the Balkans as the result of the strained relations between Greece and Yugoslavia, coupled with continued Greek disorders attributed by the Athens government to Communists.

The week-end saw an extraordinary string of developments. First came Yugoslavia's open hint at the Paris Peace Conference that it believed Greek Macedonia—one of the most cherished possessions of Greece—should be in the Yugoslav federation.

Further illumination came later when Communist Demetrius Partsalides, secretary-general of the E.A.M. (National Liberation Front—coalition of leftwingers) was asked bluntly in a press conference if the E.A.M. would lead a revolution against the government. He answered neither "yes" nor "no," but he did say that if the country was under attack from a foreign power, "every pressure of the Greek people would be to overthrow the government."

Earlier E.A.M. had issued a statement saying it wouldn't recognize the results of the recent plebiscite which voted overwhelmingly for a return of King George to his throne. Partsalides said "the king must not come back."

Meantime the forcing down of a Greek military airplane in Yugoslavia by anti-aircraft fire was creating added tension. The Yugoslav ambassador to Greece recently was withdrawn. Also in the offing was Bulgaria's demand for western Thrace from Greece—a claim which more than incidentally has the support of Russia and the Slav group.

Add to these grave complications the fact that Britain is standing squarely behind Greece as guardian. Greece is Britain's only foothold on the Balkan Peninsula and consequently a priceless base in view of the clash of interests in the Balkans and Middle East between the Soviet Union and Britain.

The way things now look, King George may well encounter a rebellion right at the outset of his new reign. The Greek Communists are pursuing the well-tried Red policy of "divide and rule," causing strife and then seizing power.

Two Bodies Recovered From Ontario Lakes

KENORA (CP)—The bodies of Harry Parkin, 59, of Winnipeg, and Philip Markham, 25, of Kenora, who drowned in separate accidents in the Kenora district were found during the week-end. Parkin's body was found by Ontario Provincial Police in Helder Lake. He drowned Aug. 31 when a canoe upset. The body of Markham, a second Great War veteran, was found near Coney Island in Lake of the Woods. He and three other men had started for a camp the previous week-end, but all four apparently fell asleep and when the other three awoke Markham was not to be found. More sets of twins are born in Canada than in the United States per million births, but more sets of triplets and quadruplets are born in the U.S. The national flag of Denmark is said to be the oldest national ensign in the world.

THE WARTIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD

"On Anxiety Street there are plenty of neighbours."

"It's mighty decent of you, Harry, to take young Bill to school while I'm on my back," said Don.

"Yes, it's a real neighbourly act," his wife added.

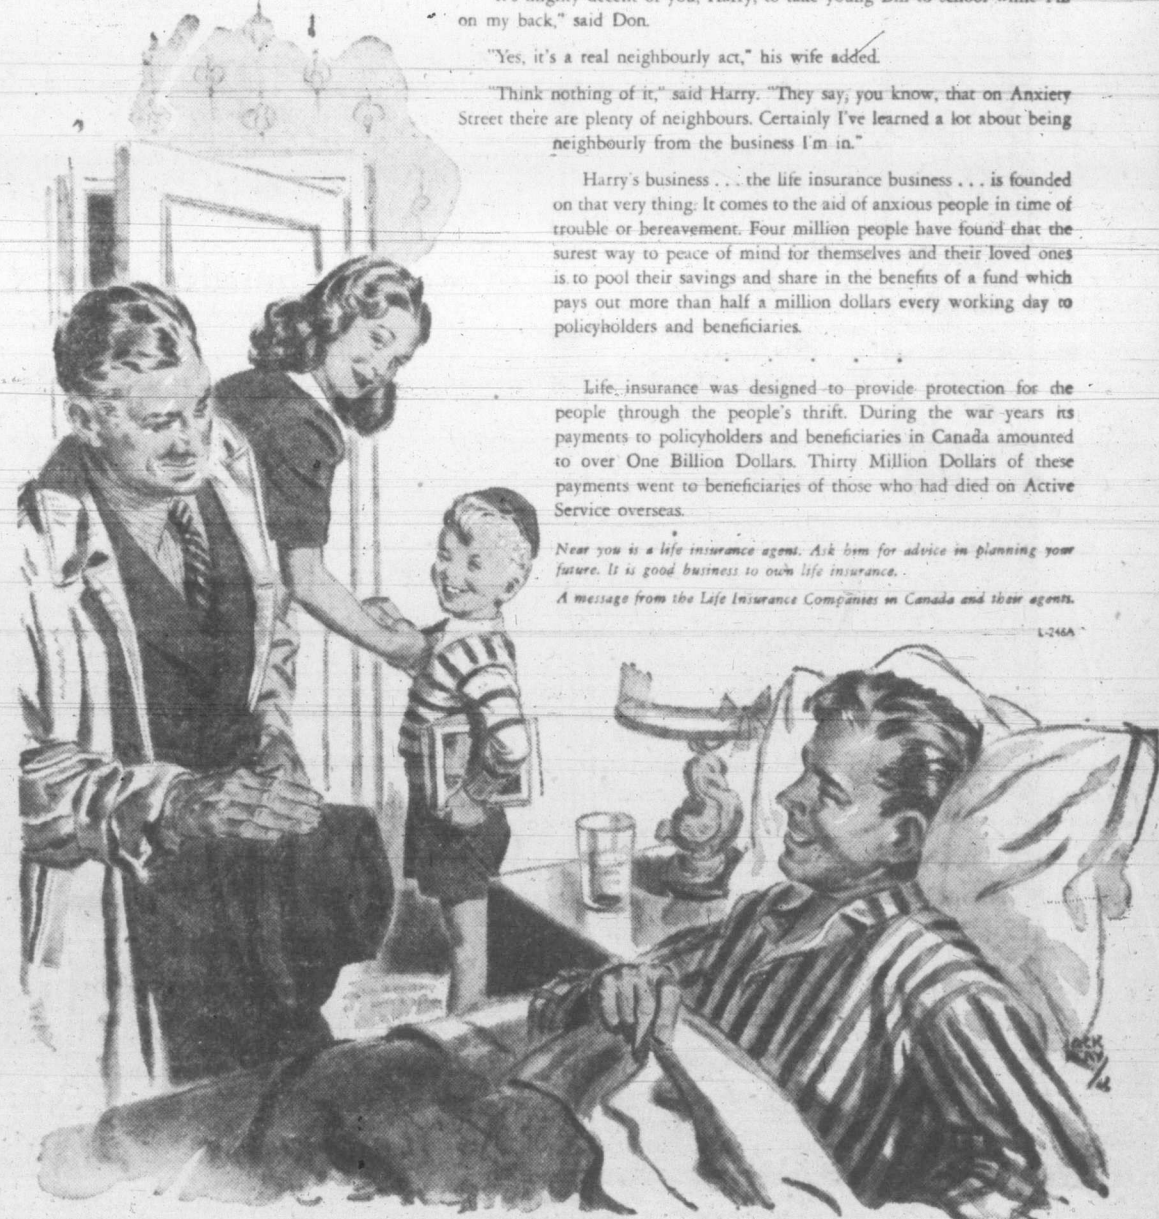

"Think nothing of it," said Harry. "They say, you know, that on Anxiety Street there are plenty of neighbours. Certainly I've learned a lot about being neighbourly from the business I'm in."

Harry's business... the life insurance business... is founded on that very thing: It comes to the aid of anxious people in time of trouble or bereavement. Four million people have found that the surest way to peace of mind for themselves and their loved ones is to pool their savings and share in the benefits of a fund which pays out more than half a million dollars every working day to policyholders and beneficiaries.

Life insurance was designed to provide protection for the people through the people's thrift. During the war years its payments to policyholders and beneficiaries in Canada amounted to over One Billion Dollars. Thirty Million Dollars of these payments went to beneficiaries of those who had died on Active Service overseas.

Next you is a life insurance agent. Ask him for advice in planning your future. It is good business to own life insurance.

Victoria Chinese Receives M.M. For Leading Savages

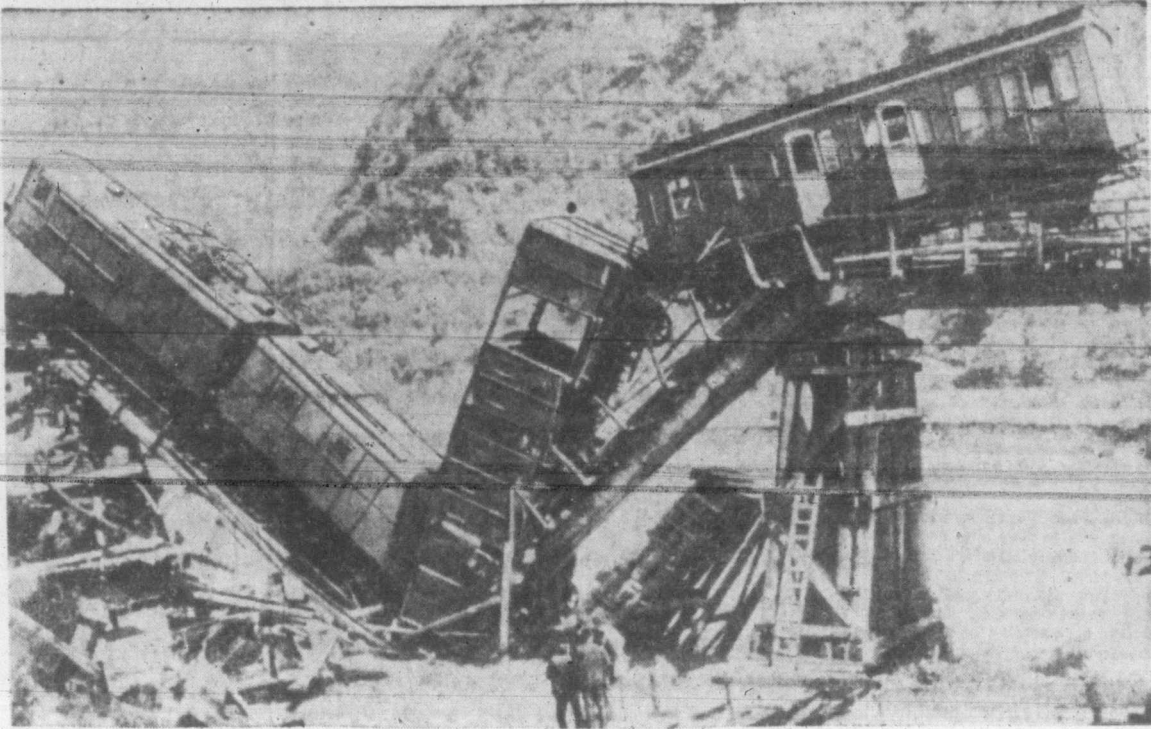

Sgt. Roy Sun Tse Chan, Victoria, is one of four Canadian-born Chinese volunteers for special duty in the South Pacific, who have been awarded the Military Medal, the Department of National Defence announced today.

The others are Sgts. Norman Moh Low and Louey King of Vancouver, and James Shiu of Berkeley, Calif., and Vancouver. The four, together with Capt. R. K. Cheng of Lillooet and Vancouver, went to Australia on their special assignment several months before the Japanese quit in the Pacific, and subsequently joined a force of British and Australian commando and guerilla warfare experts. This combined force was eventually "inserted by air" into the mountain fastnesses and Jap-infested jungles of Borneo, deep in enemy territory.

The particular area in which the force was to operate was inhabited by a savage tribe of headhunters known as Dyaks, but the natives, who had already suffered at the hands of the Japanese, welcomed the chance to throw in their lot with the whites to harass and perhaps liquidate a common enemy. For their help they were promised food, clothing, medical supplies, arms and ammunition.

DYAKS VICIOUS
The Dyak headhunter, though small in stature, is a cunning and vicious fighter and great tact and courage was needed in training the natives in the use of firearms. The savages caught on quickly, however, and in turn taught the whites all there was to learn about the jungle, the blow-pipe and the "parang"—a broad, curved-blade jungle knife, highly lethal in the hands of a Dyak.

Sgt. Chan's official citation says: "Sgt. Chan volunteered for special operations behind the enemy's lines in the Orient, and operated with the 9th Australian Division at Labuan, Borneo. He was dropped by air deep into Japanese-held territory. There he organized and led native guerillas (Dyak headhunters) and succeeded in blocking the Rejang River to the enemy, forcing them back on their headquarters near the coast and controlling the river traffic. His patrols also successfully attacked the enemy, inflicting heavy casualties."

ONE INJURED IN SENSATIONAL WRECK—Sudden collapse of a bridge sent this passenger train tumbling into a ravine between Modane and Chambéry, France. The bridge was a temporary structure used while a new span was being erected. Despite appearances, only one person was injured.

Abandonment Of American Farmer Recalls Greatest Of Sea Mysteries, Finding Derelict Mary Celeste

The lookout on the Nova Scotia barque Dei Gratia, 300 miles west of Gibraltar, spoke the tiny brigantine he saw off the port bow. "Who are you?" asked the signal flags raised on the Dei Gratia.

There was no reply—no acknowledgement. The brigantine reeled on, under almost full sail, as though her crew were incapable or asleep.

Chief Mate Devon took a small boat crew and boarded the brigantine. In a few minutes he signalled excitedly to the Dei Gratia, and Captain Boyce joined him in another small boat. Thus began the mystery of the Mary Celeste, which has inspired fiction writers, no less renowned than Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, and logicians, and amateur sleuths, but never yet, 74 years later, has been solved.

The Mary Celeste is the most famous derelict in maritime history, which has written many less such cases on its books now than in the days of wooden sailing ships, before radio was invented. The abandonment of a modern C2 freighter like the American Farmer—even for a few hours—makes front page news and the controversies arising out of salvage ambitions are fully exploited day by day. But back in the 1870's a vessel could be abandoned for weeks, before anybody even began to wonder where it was.

IN PERFECT CONDITION

The Mary Celeste was in perfect condition. Minute scrutiny never disclosed evidence of fire or threat of fire, strain or stress or passage through rough weather, mutiny or piracy or pestilence. Nobody ever has ever learned why she was abandoned by her master, his wife and daughter and five-man crew; or how they got off; or where they went, or what became of them.

The Mary Celeste was a Nova Scotia-built half-brig 98 feet long, 25 feet wide, of 206-ton deadweight. Captain Benjamin S. Briggs took his wife and seven-year-old daughter along when he set sail for New York, Nov. 7, 1872, carrying 1,700 barrels of alcohol to Genoa to fortify Italian wines.

There are many differing versions as to exactly what Chief Mate Devon did find aboard the Mary Celeste. The consensus seems to be that everything was in perfect condition except that there was no human being aboard.

She was under full sail except that her top gallant yard was down on the cap and her gaff top sail clewed down, as though an attempt to shorten sail had been abandoned in its midst.

All bunks were made neatly, except that a pillow in the captain's cabin showed the impress of his daughter's head. Remains of an almost eaten breakfast were on the table. The captain's watch hung above his bunk. His wife's sewing machine was in the messroom. On the mate's desk was a half-written letter to "Fanny, my dear wife."

CARGO INTACT

There was plenty of food and water. Jewelry and valuable trinkets, and the cash box, were untouched. The alcohol cargo appeared intact. Hull and masts were undamaged. The seamen's chests were dry and undamaged, underclothing hung on a drying line, razors weren't even rusted.

It's up to you whether to believe the most common version—that the ship's boat hung on its davits unused and unsprung—or that the yawl was gone and its davits swung out with dangling ropes. (The only other small craft, the long-boat, had been smashed when cargo was loading, and never replaced.)

In any event, the Dei Gratia put a prize crew aboard, sailed the Mary Celeste to Gibraltar, and after two thorough investigations collected about $8,500 prize money on the appraised value of $5,700 for the brigantine and $37,000 for her cargo.

At least two old men, years after, claimed to have been members of the Mary Celeste's crew and gave differing versions of what happened, both of which were so fishy-appearing, on known facts, that they seem unworthy of repetition. Beyond that, there never has been even the faintest hint—other than attempts to build up a logical theory—as to what caused Captain Briggs, his family and crew to disappear—or how they left the Mary Celeste—or whatever became of any of them.

The Mary Celeste was a perfectly good ship, but she got a bad name. Nobody cared to own her and nobody wanted to sail her. She was sold and used for a time in what were suspected as extra-legal activities, until finally she was wrecked under circumstances that caused her new owner and captain to be tried for insurance fraud.

Back around the turn of the century the North Atlantic was speckled with derelicts. The U.S. Hydrographic Office counted 957 reported in that area in one five-year period. But most of them involved no major mystery, and no particular controversy. If, like modern ships, they had had radio, their stories would have been commonplace.

LONG "GHOST" VOYAGE

They did, however, create major navigational hazards, because many of them remained afloat for years, drifting thousands of miles, often in principal traffic lanes.

The schooner W. L. White, for example, traveled 6,800 miles in 310 days after she was abandoned in the blizzard of March, 1888.

Perhaps the closest analogies to the American Farmer to be found in the literature of derelicts were the British barque Ada Iredale, the Falls of Afton, and the iron ship Duncow.

The Ada Iredale was abandoned with coal ablaze. A French warship picked her up 241 days and 2,500 miles later, towed her to Tahiti, and she was repaired and sailed for years as the Annie Johnson out of San Francisco.

The Falls of Afton, abandoned en route from Glasgow to Calcutta with a valuable cargo, was picked up a few days later by a French ship, taken to Madeira, and had a long, useful career thereafter, though her master did not fare well before a court of inquiry into her abandonment.

The Duncow, deserted when she grounded near Dunkerque, was floated by Belgian fishermen who collected salvage awards. Nine years later, carrying lumber from Puget Sound to Australia, she grounded again, safely by salvagers who collected and once more was floated for their trouble.

Candlelight Ceremony A 'Just Married' Smile At First Baptist

In a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening at 8:30 in First Baptist Church, Rev. G. R. Easter united in marriage Jean Kathleen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Fuggle, 23 Menzies Street, and Roy Elphick, son of Robert Elphick, 211 Mary Street.

Wedding music was played by Oliver Stout, and J. Almond sang the solo, "Because."

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, chose a white satin gown. A full-length silk embroidered net veil fell from a coronet of orange blossoms. Her only ornament, a necklace of pearls, was the gift of the groom, and she carried a bouquet of red roses, swansons and heather.

Miss Joan Fenwick, maid of honor, was in pale blue net over taffeta and carried peach gladioli. Miss Meryl Stebbing, a bridesmaid, wore peach net over taffeta with mauve gladioli and the junior bridesmaid, Miss Irene Fuggle, sister of the bride, was gowned in turquoise net over taffeta with Colonial bouquet. All attendants wore floral head bands.

Acting as groomsman was Jim Blyth, while ushers were Victor Fuggle, a brother of the bride, and Albert Coomber.

Mrs. Fuggle and Mrs. Robert Elphick assisted the bride and groom to receive their guests at a reception held at the home of the bride, Rev. G. R. Easter proposed the bride's toast.

Later the young couple were piped aboard the midnight boat for Vancouver, where the honeymoon will be spent, by Pipe-Major Archie McMillan.

For traveling, the bride chose a lemon yellow suit of Scottish weave, black accessories and corsage bouquet of gardenias.

On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Elphick will reside at 338 Davida Street.

Evelyn Ed' Dels Wed At First United

Dr. Hugh McLeod united in marriage Miss Evelyn May Ed' Dels, 2151 Fair Street, and Don Edward Forrest, only son of Mrs. Kathleen Forrest, 1526 Pandora Avenue, at First United Church Saturday night. Church organist J. Ingram Smith played wedding music and soloist was Norman Tyrrell.

Given in marriage by Leslie Dash, the bride wore a white satin gown with stand-up lace collar, fitted bodice with lace peplum, and white lace trim on the lily point sleeves. Her floor-length veil of embroidered net cascaded from a coronet of orange blossoms over the full skirt, which was slightly in train. Complementing her costume, she wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of red roses centred with gardenias.

A crepe gown, featuring alternating bands of shell pink and pale blue, was chosen by the bride, Mrs. Joe Jones of Shawigan Lake. Her headress was of artificial flowers with shoulder-length veil, and she carried a bouquet of mauve asters and pink carnations.

Fred Ransom supported the groom and ushers were W. D. MacCaghey and Jack Valo.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Jones, 2587 Dalhousie Street, where Mrs. W. A. Ritchie and Mrs. Kathleen Forrest assisted in welcoming the guests.

For their honeymoon, the young couple motored to Echo Lodge, Paul Lake, and will return via Seattle. For traveling, the bride chose a pearl-grey dressmaker suit, black sailor hat and matching accessories, and lemon topcoat. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest will reside in Victoria.

Nancy Ley Bride Of Neil Craig

Gladoli and asters set the scene Saturday evening for the marriage of Nancy Ellen Trevellick Ley, younger daughter of Mrs. F. M. Jupp, "Wildwood," Arbutus Road, and W. H. C. Ley, and Neil Leonard Craig, only son of Mrs. G. K. Woods, 1310 Topaz Avenue, at St. Luke's Church Cedar Hill Road. Rev. Frederick Pike, rural dean, officiated. Eric Edwards presided at the organ and the choir in attendance, sang "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden."

Given in marriage by Patrick Mumford, the bride wore a gown of white, eyelet embroidery with square neckline, cape sleeves and flared skirt. Her silk net veil cascaded from a headdress of swansonia. Single asters in shades of mauve and pink formed her arm bouquet.

Maid of honor, Miss Iris Linquist wore a gown of pale blue taffeta. A mohair calot completed her ensemble and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations and mauve larkspur. Miss Margaret Jupp, step-sister of the bride, and Miss Maxine McClung of Vancouver, were bridesmaids in dusty pink organdie and turquoise blue crepe respectively. They carried bouquets of mauve larkspur. Miss Doreen Woods, half-sister of the groom, chose a

At a reception, following the ceremony in the parish hall, Mrs. Jupp and Mrs. Woods assisted in receiving the guests and Archie McKinnon proposed the toast to the bride.

The young couple left for a honeymoon up-island, the bride traveling in a three-piece gabardine suit of teal blue, white accessories and corsage bouquet of gardenias. On their return, they will make their home at 1814 Quadra Street.

Couple Plight Troth, Honeymoon in Mexico

Miss Claudia Helen Caldwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Caldwell, 225 Quebec Street, exchanged nuptial vows with Bernard Stanley Nicholls, son of Mrs. J. Nicholls, and the late J. Nicholls, of Vancouver, Friday evening at a ceremony performed by Rev. Hugh McLeod at First United Church.

In a setting of white gladioli and pink asters, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her ivory satin gown was styled on Victorian lines, slightly en train, and her chapel veil was held by a coronet of lily of the valley. A cameo necklace was her only jewelry and she carried a bouquet of red roses, white sweet peas and heather.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Edward Bailey, in a gown of pale blue sheer with satin bodice. She wore a matching coronet headdress. Pink gladioli and blue delphinium formed her bouquet.

The groom chose his brother, Leonard Nicholls, as best man. Ushers were Andrew Kepner, brother-in-law of the bride, and Bud White.

A reception was held later in the Goble Hall, Oak Bay, where 100 guests were welcomed by the young couple assisted by their mothers, Mrs. Caldwell and Mrs. Nicholls. A three-tier wedding cake, made by the bride's mother, centred the table.

The young couple left for a motor trip to California and Mexico. For traveling, the bride wore a suit of gold wool with fingertip topcoat, grey accessories and a corsage bouquet of gardenias.

On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholls will reside at 1186 View Street.

Jean Scott Wed In Colorful Rites

An original gown of Belgium lace with square neckline trimmed in shirred lace, long-fitted bodice, lily point sleeves, and bouffant skirt, was chosen by Miss Jean Campbell Scott, daughter of Thomas Scott, "Scotstoun," North Quadra Street, and the late Mrs. T. Scott, for her marriage Saturday evening to James Aldous Doran, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Doran, James Island.

Standard baskets of white gladioli and silver vases of asters decorated the altar at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. C. C. Warren presided at the organ and soloist Neil MacNaughton sang "The Lord's Prayer" during the signing of the register. Rev. J. L. W. McLean performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her long veil was outlined with seed pearls set in satin and cascaded from a coronet also trimmed with pearls. She wore a single strand of pearls and carried a white Bible topped with a mauve orchid.

Mrs. J. Edmundson of Tacoma attended her sister as matron of honor in a gown of blush pink. She wore matching callot and mits and her shower bouquet was of pink roses and mauve asters.

Bridesmaids Miss Bonny Doran, sister of the groom, and Miss Irene Scott, the bride's sister, chose identical gowns of mauve sheer. Their tiny caps were of mauve velvet trimmed in silver sequins and the mauve theme was repeated in their Colonial bouquets of sweet peas and carnations.

Ring-bearer was little Rickie Edmundson in black velvet trousers and white satin blouse.

William Dobbs of Vancouver acted as groomsmen. Douglas Saunders of New Westminster and Robert Stangroom of Vancouver were ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Duke of Kent Room at the Empress Hotel, where James Whyte of Vancouver proposed the toast to the bride.

For a honeymoon in Vancouver, Portland and Tacoma, the bride changed to a fine worsted tailored suit of dawn pink with topcoat of tropical spice English covert cloth, black accessories and orchid corsage bouquet. On their return, the young couple will reside in Victoria.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Dorothy Dix: I had the same lipstick trouble as the guy who had to wash his face every time he kissed his girl, but I broke my sweetie of going too strong on the red paint by smearing it all over her face when I kissed her. By the time she got through explaining to her mother how it happened she was more cautious.

So, boys, take a tip from me. Do a little more lipstick smearing and a little less kissing until you cure your girl friend of her bad habit.

BOB.

Answer: Thanks, Bob, for your good advice. You will be doing a real missionary work if you can convince the bobby-soxers that while a mere touch of lipstick may be alluring, a mouth that looks like a hunk of raw meat is disgusting.

1906 Styles Appear In Picture At Rio

Remember the black bloomers that once brought appreciative whistles when the girls wore them on the basketball courts and gymnasium floors?
Ann Sheridan and Irene Manning wear them for a scene in "Shine On Harvest Moon," Warner Bros. tuneful biography of Nora Bayes, starring Miss Sheridan and Dennis Morgan, now at the Rio Theatre.

Parker Featured In Comedy Film

While on location at the Los Angeles Union Station for scenes in Columbia Pictures' new comedy, "One Way to Love," Willard Parker, who is currently featured along with Marguerite Chapman, Chester Morris, Janis Carter and Hugh Herbert at the Dominion Theatre Tuesday, decided to spend his lunch-hour shopping for a suit. He asked Frank Sully to accompany him because he is color blind. When they reached the store Parker discovered that Sully is color blind, too.

They finally went back and got Chester Morris, who isn't.

Kent Smith Back After War Service

Kent Smith, whose promising screen career was interrupted by two years' service in the U.S. Army Air Force, is importantly featured in RKO Radio's latest psychological drama, "The Spiral Staircase," currently at the Atlas Theatre. In this, his first post-war role, Smith portrays a young physician who finds himself helpless to protect the girl he loves when an unknown killer starts a series of crimes in a small New England town.

Starring in the unique melodrama are Dorothy McGuire, George Brent and Ethel Barrymore.

To Tutor Prince

Mrs. Elizabeth Grey Vining of Philadelphia, Pa., has been chosen to tutor the Crown Prince of Japan. Last March, George Stoddard, chairman of the mission to Japan, recommended her as admirably suited to the responsibility.

Lana Turner Stars In Royal Picture

Lana Turner, John Garfield and Carl Nugent, property man who has been with Miss Turner on all of her pictures, were talking about old times on the set of "The Postman Always Rings Twice."

"Things have changed," reflected Nugent. "Everybody's always so busy these days."

A few days later Nugent received a present of a gold wrist-watch. On the back was inscribed: "Carl—Time for you always—Lana."

"The Postman Always Rings Twice," filmization of the powerful James M. Cain best-seller novel, opens today on the Royal screen. Miss Turner and Garfield are co-starred.

AS THE RUTHLESS WIFE who plots her husband's murder in "The Postman Always Rings Twice," now playing on the Royal screen, Lana Turner combines her celebrated "oomph" appeal with the most dramatic role of her career. In the scene above, Miss Turner and her co-conspirator, John Garfield, use a bit of hard-boiled persuasion on Alan Reed.

Hayworth Scores In Romantic Drama

When a movie role comes along that's just about made to order for a screen star's personality, the resulting film is sure to be a hit. Visible evidence of this can be found at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, where lovely Rita Hayworth is the glamorous, bewitching "Gilda," in Columbia Pictures' thrilling romantic drama, when Glenn Ford, George Macready, Joseph Calleia and Steven Geray.

There never was a woman like Gilda and Miss Hayworth really goes to town in her first important dramatic role.

'Hoodlum Saint' Fascinating Drama

The engrossing story of a man who loses faith in the world until he is won over by a group of hoodlums who have been aided by their belief in Saint Dismas, patron of bums, brings William Powell and Esther Williams to the Capitol screen today in "The Hoodlum Saint," one of the most fascinating pictures of the year.

Of particular interest is the fact that both Powell and Miss Williams make an abrupt change from their familiar characterizations in the new M-G-M drama, Powell's role being a far cry from his comedy parts of the "Thin Man" series, and Miss Williams similarly making an abrupt departure from her swimming roles.

YORK

Canada is having a new kind of "book week," starting tomorrow when consumers from coast to coast will turn out to get their new ration books. More than 7,000 distribution centres in every city, town and hamlet will be open to hand out the valuable little coupon-books which keep Canada's system of food distribution in such smooth running order that shiploads of essential foods can be sent regularly to the devastated areas of Europe. Above, left Father Robert of the Trappist Monastery of Mistassini, collects the books for his order; right, two pretty representatives of the Chinese colony in Montreal, help with the distribution; lower left, a bearded Sikh from Victoria prepares for the allotment of books to the coast city's East India residents, and right, Ottawa residents line up while a volunteer worker writes in the necessary information. Centre, ration book No. 6.

Twenty-one distribution centres will be open in the four Greater Victoria municipalities Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at times advertised in the paper. Sixteen other distribution centres are open on the southern end of the island, those at Metchosin and Sooke starting business today. Ration book holders are warned by local officials that they must not detach the green application cards from their No. 5 ration books before going to the distribution centres, but they should be filled out. If books are not obtained on the designated days, holders will have to wait until after Sept. 30 before they may get the books from the ration board office.

Stock Area With Many Pheasants

The news that between 400 and 500 pheasants were due in a shipment for this area, was told to members of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association at their recent meeting by Game Warden Stevenson.

He asked for suggestions regarding their liberation and it was left to the executive to work out.

Norman Lord was extended a vote of thanks by president Freddy Hughes for his fine word-picture on how gun dog trials are run.

The association will publish a year book to be known as the Vancouver Island Game Seekers Guide. The following suggestions were made for inclusion: What to do when lost in the bush, instruction on compass reading, rules and regulations on salmon fishing, definitions of "closed areas" for fishing and hunting—which can be obtained from the local game office.

N. Alexander was chosen as chairman of a committee to look into the possibility of staging the island's first deer derby.

A suggestion was made that a letter be sent to the sports officer at both H.M.C.S. Naden and Givenchy pointing out that any interested member of the naval force are welcome to attend the meetings. The association encouraged the idea of members taking out personnel of the armed services on hunting and fishing trips.

CARRY FIVE MILLION WORDS A DAY

"I'm not afraid of hardships and shortages, mom! After three years in the army I'm not only ready to marry, but we've decided to defy the world and have children!"

Officers Retain Military Titles When Back On Civie Street

What is known in army parlance as "the telephone book routine order" is coming in for wide usage these days as demobilized servicemen retain their rank in civilian life.

By this order Capt. John Canuck, back in Civie Street, can use his rank in the telephone directory and in other ways.

The routine order does not provide specifically for recognition of ranks of permanent force officers after they retire from service, but it is a generally accepted rule, and as one officer pointed out, "nobody is going to start calling Gen. Crerer, Mr. Crerer after his retirement becomes final."

A permanent force man serves to an age limit, retires and becomes a civilian. He can, however, join the Non-Permanent Active Militia and be re-commissioned and there is nothing to say that he can't use his title.

Officers other than permanent force men—this includes the great number of men who came into the army during the war—are classed as N.P.A.M. men for purposes of retirement, and when they apply for discharge they automatically go into the reserve of officers.

The period of national emergency is not considered to be over and while it remains, certain demobilized officers will be placed in the reserve of active officers.

There is also a corps reserve of officers who wish to retain their unit affiliations. These officers can remain on their unit's peace-time reserve.

Then there is a reserve general list of officers for unattached men.

ON RESERVE LIST

Officers going into these reserves apply each year to remain on the reserve list, submitting medical certificates on their fitness. There is no time limit when they must relinquish their military titles, but they automatically are removed from the lists at certain age limits depending on ranks. All these reserve officers in any category can turn out in uniform for mess dinners and ceremonials, but in the case of unit reserve officers they do not necessarily take an active part in the routine of their regiments.

For instance, Capt. Jack Canuck can get his uniform out of the mothballs to attend his regiment's annual dress dinner or the local remembrance day ceremonial. He can use the military title—captain—in an advertisement for his insurance business, in the telephone directory and at the golf club. But it is likely that he will never be called upon to perform an active military role again.

Officers, permanent or non-permanent in category, who have been maimed and are therefore unable to qualify for listing on the reserve, are permitted to retain their titles and wear their uniforms on proper occasions.

In the case of non-commissioned officers and men, it was said that they do not retain ranks for use in civilian life. However, if they rejoin N.P.A.M. units, they naturally can use the rank they attain in these units. Men in this category can get permission to wear their old uniforms on ceremonial occasions by writing to the commanding officer of the nearest naval, military or air force district.

Ike Williams Gets Australian Offer

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—Australia now wants N.B.A. lightweight champion Ike Williams to put his title on the line.

Harry Miller, manager of Stadium Limited, said today he had telegraphed his British representatives to offer the Trenton, N.J., negro the same amount he received for knocking out British 135-pound king Ronnie James to meet Australia's Vic Patrick. Williams also was offered plane travel fare for three.

Miller said he believed the American's share of the gate at Cardiff, Wales, where Williams stopped James in the ninth round this week was $26,000.

Playing over the 36-hole route Saturday, Carl Haymond, Tacoma, defeated R. H. Cleat, Vancouver, 4 and 3. Haymond was 3 up at the end of 18 holes.

Harry Maynard Plate Will Run Wednesday

Inaugural running of the Harry Maynard Plate over a flat mile will take place at the Willows Wednesday afternoon, it was announced Saturday by officials of the racing association. Originally scheduled for Sept. 14 the date for the plate was advanced when the current meeting was shortened from 21 to 14 days. The mile race will attract a smart field of handicap runners, all owners being anxious to carry off the handsome plate donated by the well-known local racing patron.

At the same time the officials released a new date for the Times Handicap, also being run for the first time this season. It will be staged Saturday over a mile and 70 yards for a purse of $1,000 added. The Colonist Handicap will be run Sept. 21, instead of seven days later. It will be over a mile and one-sixteenth for a purse of $1,000 added.

Showing a clean pair of heels and running like a good thing, Mrs. E. Stewart's aged mare Some Turley, with the Russian hardboot Johnny Hruschak in the irons, carried off the big share of the pot in the feature Saanich Handicap on Saturday's program. With fine weather the order the races attracted a crowd of 4,200.

Starting at odds of better than 10 to 1 the locally-owned Some Turley broke on top, opened up five lengths at the half, and held on easily to win by three over Nalod with the fast-closing Tidy Peter taking third. The favored Kinsall, after vainly attempting to catch the leader, was unable to hold off Tidy Peter and wound up fourth.

TWO FAVORITES WIN

On the seven-race card, only two favorites, Sun Madras in the second and Dry Land in the fourth, managed to get down on top. Interned, the second choice, was the winner of the third, with the other four heats going to outsiders. Sir Broxa copped the first; Red Fez was the best in the fifth, while Arab Somers took the pot in the seventh.

The daily-double Sir Broxa-Sun Madras was worth $15.95, while the one-two in the seventh, Arab Somers-Arcot Gael returned a healthy $31.50.

Riding honors were well distributed.

Seals Look Cinch To Capture Coast Baseball Crown

The highest odds since the start of the hectic season today backed the San Francisco Seals, with a five-game edge, to wind up two weeks hence, with the Pacific Coast League baseball pennant, and for this the loop leaders owed thanks to the Hollywood Stars.

While the San Francisco club split a doubleheader yesterday, winning the nightcap 3 to 2 after Sacramento's Solons had taken the first game 4 to 3, Hollywood rounded out a conquest that was disastrous for the Oakland challengers for the flag.

The Seals' pitching ace, Larry Jensen, pitching only nine balls in a relief chore, got credit for his 27th win this year.

The Oakland Acons were in a virtual tie for first place when the movie city Stars started to work on them. Oakland won the opener yesterday, 11 to 8, but the Stars came back for a 4 to 3 decision in the afterpiece, called in the sixth inning over the protest of Acon manager Casey Stengel, and rounded out the series with a margin of seven games to two.

The cellar-dwelling Portland Beavers swept a doubleheader with Los Angeles, 5 to 1 and 6 to 3.

San Diego won its Seattle series, 5 to 4, with the teams dividing yesterday's double bill. San Diego won the opener, 4 to 1, on the four-hit pitching of Vernon Kennedy, and the Rainiers came back to take the seven-inning nightcap 6 to 1.

Hancock's Gun Dogs Win Twice In Trials

With a good attendance of spectators the Victoria Gun Dog Club of the local fish and game body presented gun dog trials yesterday at Jap. Slash behind the Cowichan Lake village. Ten dogs were entered.

Entries by Arthur and Joe Hancock came through with first prize money in two of the events.

Results follow:

First prize, Pete Challenger, pointer, owner A. Hancock.

Second prize, Skipper, English setter, owner Thomas Brown.

Third prize, Toots, Gordon setter, owner Dan Moses.

Novice class winner, Tony, pointer, owner J. Hancock.

A dog owned by Ray Cyrell won the prize for Spaniels.

Thomas Dicks, club official, reported the trials successful and noted the club was planning on a much larger event next year.

"In the meantime," he added, "we are going to stage a retrieving competition very shortly — and much closer to the city."

Pike Green Takes Auto Race Honors

With Victoria drivers providing the competition an automobile race meet was held at Langford Speedway Saturday night. Pike Green lifted the 20-lap main event with Jerry Vantreight second and Jimmy Laird third.

Digger Caldwell, winner of majority of the main events this season, and Bob Wensley were both forced out of action when their cars suffered broken axles. Green was also a winner in the heat race with Vantreight defeating Corky Thomas in a match race.

Legion Need One More Win To Take Baseball Honors

Enjoying a 3 to 1 lead in games and needing only one more win to clinch the city baseball championship, Canadian Legion will throw their number one hurler, Bill Prior, at the V.M.D. tonight with the hope of lifting the bunting. Game will be played at Athletic Park, starting at 8. In Saturday's two games the Legion took the afternoon affair 7 to 4, behind Prior's hurling, but dropped the nightcap 5 to 3.

Four-run, outburst in the seventh inning, to break a 2 to 2 tie, earned the Legion a win in the opener. Although he gave up 10 hits, one less than his teammates collected off Jimmy Dumeah, Prior held the shipyarders to lone runs in the fourth, sixth, eighth and ninth. He struck out 11.

DUMEAH HURLS TWO

Dumeah came back in the second game to hurl an eight-inning and keep his club in the running. After being given a 4 to 0 lead in the first three innings Dumeah never looked back, shutting out the Legion until the eighth. V.M.D. picked up 12 hits off Lloyd Cann.

Mickey Bartko, V.M.D. catcher, was tossed out of both games by the umpires. In the afternoon tilt he was sent to the showers for protesting a ball and strike count, and in the evening left early following a mixup with Legion infielder Ted Parkins in the play at second base.

Short scores follow:

Oak Bay Cricketers Turn Back Five C's

League cricket season was closed out in Victoria Saturday with a pair of matches. Oak Bay retained its undefeated record for the season by defeating Five C's 110 to 43. Brewin with 56 not out was high bat for the Bays. McKeachie put on 15 to be the only member of the C's to reach double figures.

Royal Canadian Navy were unable to field a team to oppose Albions, and an exhibition match was arranged with Lewis' eleven defeating Currie's side 123 to 82.

Toppers Draw With Seattle Eleven

In an exhibition intercity soccer match Saturday afternoon at Macdonald Park, Toppers and Seattle Wickman Ties, battled to a 2 to 2 draw. It marked the opening of the 1946-47 season.

After Seattle had moved into a 1 to 0 lead at the 12-minute mark, when Toppers' goalie Wally Rowe deflected the ball into his own net in clearing, the local eleven tied the score on Nip Sage's counter. The teams were still deadlocked at the half.

Early in the second half Nage registered his second goal on a pass from Douglas with Seattle regaining a tie on Baldwin's counter to end scoring for the afternoon.

Toppers will journey to Seattle next week-end to play a return match.

Cards Gain Ground

Beat Pittsburgh Twice

Brooklyn Dodgers have stolen the "gashouse gang" tag from St. Louis Cardinals with daring tactics which may yet pay off with a National League baseball pennant.

Leo Durocher's hustling, fighting crew is displaying the same dash and fire as Frankie Frisch's Cardinals displayed in the early '30's, when Pepper Martin and Co. literally stole their way to the world series.

To date the Dodger greyhounds, led by Pete Reiser, have stolen 94 bases to rank far out in front of all major league clubs.

The Dodgers hit a high for one game yesterday when they swiped eight bases—three short of the modern National League record in drubbing New York Giants 11 to 3. Despite their victory, the Dodgers dropped a half game to the Cardinals, who swept a doubleheader from Pittsburgh Pirates, 5 to 4 and 12 to 2, to increase their lead to two full games.

However, the Dodgers' position is not as bad as it sounds, since they are only one game behind in the losing column, having two more games to play than St. Louis.

Boston Red Sox will have to win the American League flag in the west. Despite their defeat by Philadelphia Athletics 5 to 3 yesterday, they nearer to clinching when both the second-place New York Yankees and the third-place Detroit Tigers dropped twin bills. The Sox need only one more victory to eliminate the Yankees and two to end all mathematical chance for the Bengals.

Washington beat the Yankees twice, 2 to 1 and 9 to 8, and Chicago White Sox topped the Tigers twice, Ed Lopat outdueling Hal Newhouser 3 to 2 in the first game, and Frank Papish shutting out the Tigers 6 to 0 in the afterpiece. Newhouser's

Athletics Drop Pair As W.I.L. Closes Out Successful Season

The 1946 Western International League baseball season ended yesterday with Wenatchee and Salem, No. 1 and 2 in the circuit standings, taking it on the chin in both ends of their respective doubleheaders as the Bremerton Bluejackets withstood the Tacoma challenge for third place.

Bremerton knocked over the league leaders 14 to 3 and 5 to 4 to hold the third spot by .006 per cent over Tacoma which closed its season with a rush with a trio of wins over Salem—9 to 5 Saturday night, 4 to 1 and 13 to 3 Sunday.

In other contests yesterday fifth-place Yakima took a twin bill from cellar-dwelling Victoria 11 to 3 and 17 to 8, while Vancouver edged Spokane in a pair of 2 to 1 encounters.

Attendance records for the season were still incomplete with totals available for only half the clubs. They were: Tacoma 116,239; Salem 103,000; Victoria 102,322, and Wenatchee, reputedly the smallest city in the United States to support a class B ball club, 94,471.

Two important league records were established during the season. Bremerton's Bill Barisoff set a new home run record with his total of 40 four-base knocks eclipsing the previous mark of 37 set by Morrie Abbott while

Jack Kramer Wins U.S. Tennis Title In Straight Sets

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—

Jack Kramer, big, sandy-haired slugger from Los Angeles, proved decisively Sunday that he is the United States best amateur tennis player, and Tom Brown Jr. of San Francisco, latest of a long line of California comets, proved just about as conclusively that he is the second best.

Although the 23-year-old Brown went down by scores of 9-7, 6-3, 6-0 before a howling crowd of 15,000 that wanted to see him win, it took superb tennis on Kramer's part to do it. Only toward the last did Brown lose the brilliant touch that had carried him to the finals.

Sharing the final day's honors was blonde Pauline Betz of Los Angeles, who won her fourth women's title with a hard-earned victory over Doris Hart of Miami by scores of 11-9, 6-3.

The mixed doubles crown was taken by the defending champions, Margaret Osborne of Los Angeles and Billy Talbert, Wilmington, Del. 6-3, 6-4, from Louise Brough, Beverly Hills, Calif., and Bob Kimbrell, Los Angeles.

Wally Smith Manager Of Local Gridders

Big Wally Smith, a figure who has become well-known in local sporting circles in recent years, has been named manager of Victoria Mustangs, the local gridiron machine which will swing into action on home soil at the month's end, it was learned today.

The Mustangs will operate in "Big Four" league play, but will also play here and away with American gridgers. The head coach of the team is Ed Rovig, while Jimmy Smith is line coach assisted by Joe Cronie.

The club will swing into operation in Victoria against a visiting side on Sept. 28.

To date the club, which is welcoming all players who wish to turnout, has only been undergoing light practising. "But we are really going to put them through the paces starting tomorrow night," Smith said. The club members will workout for five evenings a week, each a two-hour stretch—from 5 to 7—at Macdonald Park. Mustangs present strength is 20 players but more are wanted.

Snead's Richest Golf Win

CHICAGO (AP)—Sam Snead, British open champion, scored his richest golf triumph Sunday, firing his second straight 69 to capture George S. May's $10,000 winner-take-all invitational tourney with a 36-hole aggregate of 138, six under par.

Ciros Split Fastball Games With Vancouver

Rallying to win the second game 2 to 0, behind the two-hit flinging of Ken Gunter, Ciros gained an even break with Vancouver Mandarins in the first two games of the British Columbia senior A men's fastball championship here Sunday. The visitors took the opener 4 to 2 on the strength of three unearned runs in the fifth inning. Both games attracted large crowds.

Ciros will travel to Vancouver next week-end to meet the mainland titleholders, Sunday, in the third and deciding game.

In the opener Ciros elected to send their ace flinger Joe Bryant to the mound, and with good support, he could have come up with a 2 to 1 win. Bryant allowed the visitors three hits while Ciros picked up five off Sammy Radu. But Ciros were charged with six errors.

Two walks and Heighon's single provided Mandarins with their first run in the third inning. Ciros tied it up in their half when Bryant walked, was sacrificed to second and scored on Garnet's double.

COSTLY ERRORS

Mandarins won the game in the fifth when they made one hit good for three runs, assisted greatly by two errors on the part of shortstop Harry Holness and another hobble by first baseman Vic Dale. Ciros got their second run in the eighth on Garnet's single, sacrifice hit, stolen base and Andrew's infield out.

Two runs in the first inning decided the second game. Perkins led off with a single through shortstop. Garnet popped to the shortstop. Harris lifted a high fly to short left field and shortstop Jorgenson dropped it. Andrews popped up for the second out. Holness drove a sizzler down first base for a hit, scoring Perkins. In attempting to make a delayed play first sacker Heighon threw wild to allow Harris to score the second run.

For the remainder of the game the clubs played shutout ball. Mandarins picked up hits, both singles, in the second and fifth. Ciros got to pitcher Ace Kalenski for six safeties.

OAK BAY GOLF

In the men's medal competition at the Victoria Golf Club Saturday, Alan Taylor and Colin Rutherford shared top honors, each with a net score of 66.

NEW BODY SCHEDULE CAUSES SPRING FEVER

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

All winter long you have been stoking your body with foods which kept you warm and active. To help conserve your body heat you wore heavier clothing, and when you went outside you moved briskly if the weather was cold.

When the first warm days of spring arrived, your appetite fell off. You left your heavy coat at home, wearing a light one instead. Still you found it hard to keep going.

You didn't have to consult a physician as to the cause of your tired feeling, for you recognized the old familiar symptoms of spring fever.

With the first warm days of spring, children notice the heat and want to take off all their winter clothing at once. Parents should not yield to their demands, but should change their clothing as rapidly as common sense dictates.

DIRIGIBLE IDEA MADE STEERING POSSIBLE FOR GAS-FILLED BAGS

Early in the history of the balloon, Major John Money, an Englishman, made a flight over the North Sea by accident.

Major Money rose before a great crowd on a July day in 1785. As he went upward, a strong breeze caught hold of the balloon-bag and swept it south-east.

Gazing below, the young man was able to see the coast of the North Sea. If he did not go down at once, he would be carried out over the water, probably to die when the balloon lost its lift! He pulled at a cord to open the valve, but it would not open! When gas had been put into the bag, a mistake had been made, and the valve had been covered by a piece of silk cloth!

Past the coastline and out above the sea traveled the balloon and Major Money! Little by little, gas leaked from the bag, and not quite two hours after beginning the flight, he dropped in the water.

The remaining gas held the bag in the air, and the airman clung to the ropes. With fine courage, he held on for hours in the hope that help would come.

At last, half an hour before midnight, a sailing vessel came to the rescue. Money was taken ashore, weak but happy.

The event is one of many examples of a trouble man found with the balloon. They could not steer it.

More than 100 years passed before inventors started to make progress in finding the answer. They decided that the shape of the balloon must be changed, and that it must have a motor to drive a propeller. In that case, they believed, a gas-filled bag could be made to go where the pilot desired.

Many men worked on the problem. One of them was a young Brazilian named Santos-Dumont.

This man prepared a craft with a cigar-shaped gas bag which he tested in France. Forty-five years ago he startled the people of Paris by making a trip in his "dirigible balloon" around Eiffel Tower.

$525 Stolen After Cafe Door Chopped
A thief who chopped down the rear door of the Dot Mar Cafe, 720 Yates Street, during the week-end stole $525 hidden in a closet, police reported today.

Joe Flynn, proprietor, discovered the theft this morning. Detective Angus Munro said the burglar broke in the door with an axe used at the restaurant to break lumps of coal, and which had been left outside.

A lock-throwing thief smashed the glass in the door of the Arcade Bowling Alley, Pemberton Building basement, Sunday afternoon, but only got $1.50 for his efforts.

Chlorination: Sale Of Willows; Midweek Closing To Voters

At least three highly contentious matters are slated to be placed before Victoria electors this December, if present plans and discussion in the City Council are adhered to.

The by-law for the sale of the Willows Fairgrounds, either to the Park Racing Association, or the B.C. Turf & Country Club for a price of $120,000 or more will probably be the most important and highly-discussed matter to go to the ratepayers.

There is talk of two referendums going to the ratepayers, one on the subject of chlorination and the other on the question of all-day Wednesday closing of certain types of stores in the city.

The City Council has already gone on record several times during the past few months of favoring holding a referendum on the chlorination question, although a clear majority of the present council are now convinced that continued chlorination of the city's water is necessary.

With growing opposition being registered to the increased number of stores wanting all-day Wednesday closing it has been suggested that the whole question go to the electorate, with the City Council agreeing to abide by the decision of the majority in allowing or disallowing any future petitions for the Wednesday closing. Several of the aldermen have spoken favorably of the idea of submitting the question, and it may come up for discussion at next Monday's meeting.

Doctor's Wardrobe Robbed In Second Burglary In Week

A second burglary in a week occurred at the suite of Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Hewitt, Tweedsmuir Apartments, 900 Park Boulevard, Saturday night, and the thieves again stole expensive and irreplaceable clothing.

"It's getting beyond a joke. There won't be anything left of our wardrobe," said Mrs. Hewitt today.

Police believe the thefts were committed by the same person. Circumstances surrounding each were similar in all respects.

Returning home early in the morning of Sept. 1, Dr. and Mrs. Hewitt found their suite had been entered through a bedroom window and that three of the doctor's suits and a valuable purse belonging to Mrs. Hewitt had been stolen.

Arriving home early Sunday morning, just a week after the first burglary, they found the suite had been broken into through the bathroom window.

Another of the doctor's suits was gone as well as two pairs of pajamas, a quantity of underwear, and three sweaters.

Civic Election Rumors Start As Registration List Opens

First stirrings of the civic election in December are beginning around the City Hall as the civic voters' list opens for registration.

With the mayor, five aldermen, one police commissioner and four school board members to be elected, all the present officeholders are holding off announcements as to their intentions, although there has been no talk of any of them voluntarily retiring from office.

Mayor Percy George is an almost certain candidate for the mayoralty again, and three of the aldermen coming up for re-election have been prominently mentioned as possible opponents for the mayor.

Ald. H. M. Diggon is most often mentioned as a mayoral candidate, with Ald. J. D. Hunter and Ald. D. D. McTavish also rumored to have their eyes cast on the mayoralty. None of the three have made any comment as to their intentions.

Ald. J. A. Worthington and Ald. F. G. Mulliner will also come up for re-election, and there is little question but that they will run again.

DAVIES TO RUN AGAIN

Ex-Ald. W. H. Davies, who retired from the council last year for business reasons, is rumored to plan a re-entry into civic life by running for the police commission. Ald. B. J. Gadsden is the retiring police commissioner, and he is almost sure to try for the office again.

Ex-Ald. T. W. Hawkins, who was defeated at the polls last December, is strongly rumored as another council contestant this year. He has remained active in 3-Hour Ferry City To Mainland?

The C.P.R. is considering establishment of a speedy three-hour service between Victoria and Vancouver, according to a Montreal report.

Officials are considering putting the Princess Elaine on a run between Vancouver and Swartz Bay with buses covering the distance between there and Victoria.

to give the fast service, the report said, adding the service would be inaugurated when the new automobile ferry was available for the Vancouver-Nanaimo run.

Capt. O. J. Williams, manager of the B.C. Coast Service here, said he had no information on the report.

50 Cases Before Court Of Appeal

With over fifty cases on the nominal roll, the Court of Appeal will begin one of its busiest sessions in the Courthouse Tuesday morning.

First case scheduled for hearing will be the appeal by William Henry Oliver Stobie against a Supreme Court judgment in favor of the congregation of St. Andrew's Wesley Church at Vancouver.

Stobie, who is representing the relatives of the late Alice Grant MacKay, is contesting the validity of the will of the deceased.

The deceased is alleged to have left certain funds to the Wesley Church. The plaintiff challenged the validity of the will in Supreme Court, which ruled the will valid in a judgment rendered May 24, 1946.

Largest Enrollment Recorded Since 1930 At Normal Today

The largest Normal School class since 1930, numbering nearly 120, started its 1946-47 term this morning, once more housed in its own building, which has been returned to the Provincial Department of Education, after having been used as a military hospital during the war years.

H. O. English, Normal School principal, said that more than 110 students were on hand today for the opening exercises, and he anticipated that a number more would register before the week is out.

Four full divisions have been set up, and this morning was spent in registration, obtaining class outlines and lists of books. Mr. English said.

He estimated that 10 per cent of those registering are ex-service personnel, a number of them former members of the women's services.

There is just over 25 per cent of the total enrollment men, he said, which is considerably higher than in Vancouver. This also sets a record not equaled for many years before the war. During the war years there were only five or six men entering the teaching profession among 70 to 80 women, he reported.

The work of getting classrooms into shape for use of the students is progressing as the classes get under way, he said.

French Indifference Marked In Opinions On DeGaulle Return

From French Institute of Public Opinion
 TORONTO—If, as charged in recent memoirs, General DeGaulle aspired to absolute power in France, he would today face an uphill climb in winning popular support.

The postwar mood of the French people carries only limited favor for leadership by their wartime idol. But the same unsettled public spirit reveals hardly any more enthusiasm for the present Bidault government.

Dispatches from Canadian correspondents covering the Paris Peace Conference have been noting the evident cynicism of the French people towards domestic and world political conditions. These attitudes of indifference and pessimism in France have received systematic study in surveys conducted by the French Institute of Public Opinion (Gallup Poll of France).

General DeGaulle's popularity has advanced little in the past six months, the institute found. The latest poll of an accurate cross-section of the French voting population, repeated the question previously asked in April and June:

"Would you like to see Gen. DeGaulle return to office?"

| | April | June | Today |
|-------------|-------|------|-------|
| Yes | 19% | 14% | 23% |
| No | 50% | 42% | 48% |
| Indifferent | 19% | 22% | 19% |

FEW EXPECT RETURN
 Even fewer French voters than those who favor the leadership of DeGaulle think he actually will be returned to power.

"Do you expect General DeGaulle will ever return to office?"

| | Feb. | Today |
|------------|------|-------|
| Yes | 21% | 27% |
| No | 45% | 34% |
| No Opinion | 34% | 39% |

So pronounced is the spirit of cynicism in France that attitudes are now classified as "indifferent" by the French Institute as well as pro, con and "no opinion." Indifference is notably prevalent with respect to the Bidault government as indicated by the response to the question:

"Are you satisfied or dissatisfied with the ministerial cabinet formed by M. Bidault?"

| | Satisfied | Dissatisfied | Indifferent | No Opinion |
|--|-----------|--------------|-------------|------------|
| | 33% | 22% | 23% | 22% |

Disapproval was found to be most pronounced amongst the working class voters.

Eggs Will Be Shipped Despite Farm Strike

VANCOUVER (CP)—Wemyss Reid, director of the Western Canada Produce Association's British Columbia section, said the Alberta farmers delivery strike will have no effect on the shipment to 45,500,000 eggs from Canada to Great Britain, scheduled for next month.

Mr. Reid said that all Alberta eggs to be included in the shipment are already in storage, the property of the federal Special Products Board and the British Ministry of Food.

The balance of the shipment of 219,000 cases will be collected in British Columbia between now and Oct. 23, when the refrigerator ship Saxon Star is scheduled to leave the British Columbia coast with the second cargo.

Boy, 2, Hurlled 100 Feet In Plane Crash Which Orphaned Him

Sole survivor of a plane crash in which 21 persons died, including his father, mother and baby brother, Peter Link, 2, is seen in Elko, Nevada, hospital. He was hurled 100 feet.

Direct violation of safety rules helped cause the crash, U.S. civil aeronautics experts reported. The plane, flying at 200 feet, was coming in to land, and officials believe pilot mistook a beacon light for landing lights on the field. This is a picture of the wreckage.

Rains Pour As Britons Pray For Sunshine To Save Harvest

LONDON (CP)—A torrential rain swept over much of the United Kingdom Sunday even as millions of churchgoers prayed for better harvest weather. Farmers predict crop losses may average 50 per cent.

This year's harvest will be one of the worst in several decades unless the almost constant rain with which September opened is replaced by sunshine and drying winds.

From Scotland to the English Channel grain is sprouting in sodden fields. Except in a few lucky areas, harvesting is almost at a standstill. Only the wartime introduction of combine harvesters which thresh standing grain has averted greater loss, but in many places these machines cannot operate because rain has left wheat, oats and barley tangled flat on the ground.

A forecast of week-end sunny spells proved wrong in southern England, but E. L. Hawke of the Royal Meteorological Society said there were indications that more settled weather—Indian summer—could be expected about the middle of the month.

All London newspapers published reports of harvest losses. An all-night rain and thunderstorm flooded the main streets of Salisbury in Wiltshire and the ground floors of some houses were under water. The main line of the Southern Railway was blocked by landslides and fallen trees near Exeter in Devon and one platform in that area was under water.

London's rainfall was 87 inch between 10 p.m. Saturday and 3 p.m. Sunday. Some roads were under nine inches of water.

Farmers in Buckinghamshire who had expected to get some harvest work done during the week-end were frustrated by continuous rain and what appeared to be a deluge. The British Ministry of Food said the shipment to 45,500,000 eggs from Canada to Great Britain, scheduled for next month.

Mr. Reid said that all Alberta eggs to be included in the shipment are already in storage, the property of the federal Special Products Board and the British Ministry of Food.

The balance of the shipment of 219,000 cases will be collected in British Columbia between now and Oct. 23, when the refrigerator ship Saxon Star is scheduled to leave the British Columbia coast with the second cargo.

Parents Accused Of Slaying Tiny Baby

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP)—A charge of murdering their three-week-old daughter was laid late Saturday against Richard D. Harris, 21, merchant seaman from Turner Valley, Alta., and Beatrice Margaret Harris, 20, Sydney, N.S.

The young couple showed no emotion when the charge was read after an inquest into the death of the infant, whose body was found Thursday in Saint John Harbor.

The coroner's jury found that the baby, born at the Saint John General Hospital Aug. 14 and registered under the name of Marlene Marie Harris, met death by drowning and that the child had been placed in the water by her father.

The accused were remanded for preliminary hearing Wednesday.

Canadian Nickel

brings you Tin products

THE FEDERATED MALAY STATES produce a large part of the world's tin. Canada produces about ninety per cent of the world's Nickel.

Only a small percentage of Malayan tin is consumed in Malaya. Less than three percent of the Nickel produced in Canada is consumed in Canada—the rest is exported, and the money received helps to pay for tin and other products necessary to good living in Canada.

Canada cannot keep on importing from other lands unless Canadian goods are exported.

Each increase in the export of Canadian Nickel means more workers employed in the Nickel mines, smelters and refineries, as well as additional workers employed in the production of the lumber, power, steel, machinery and supplies used by the Canadian Nickel industry.

By constantly expanding the use of Nickel at home and abroad, the Canadian Nickel industry brings additional benefits to Canadians.
